COLORED OLEO BILL BACK IN HOUSE

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Pension Plan OK Virtually Assured

Modified Act Up For Vote

Hectic Session Saves Proposal

WASHINGTON— (INS) — The House is expected to approve today a veterans pension bill, probably limited to ex - servicemen of World War I.

Democratic leaders virtually conceded passage of the administration - opposed measure but predicted approval of an amendment removing fourteen million World War II veterans from the bill's benefits.

The bill also is expected to be amended to restrict payment of pensions to needy veterans, possibly barring it to single veterans whose annual income exceeds $2,000 and to ex-servicemen with a dependent whose annual income exceeds $3,000.

The legislation which weathered two severe attacks, would grant veterans $90 monthly pensions when they reached the age of 65.

VOTE REVERSED

Sponsored by Rep. Rankin (D-Miss.), the bill narrowly escaped being defeated during a hectic day in which the House first voted in effect to kill the bill and then reversed itself.

The House turned thumbs down on the bill on a teller vote of 163 to 154, but then reversed itself on two formal roll call tallies of 223-187 and 291 to 120.

On the teller vote, no names were recorded.

After reversing itself, the House then proceeded by voice vote to eliminate "blue discharge" veterans from the Bill's benefits.

These are servicemen who received "other than dishonorable" discharges, including conscientious objectors and others who were let go because they were deemed incapable of performing their duty adequately.

There was strong support for a substitute being readied by Rep. Huber (D-Ohio) and backed by the Veterans of Foreign Wars which would increase the benefits granted veterans for non-service - connected disability. Rankin claimed this provision, which was not in his bill, would increase costs.

Mission To Build

The Lutheran Mission, South Boulevards, had purchased a lot at the southwest corner of Cook road and Lexington avenue as the site for a church home, Wray Smith, pastor, announced today.

The lot was bought from Miss Virginia Howard, Mansfield teacher, for $4,000. It has a frontage of 110 feet on Lexington avenue and 150 feet on Cook road.

Although Dr. Clyde Xander, head of the Ohio Home Missions board, and Dr. Elwood Bowman of the board of American Missions in New York City, have approved the purchase, no definite time has been set for building, Rev. Smith said.

"It may be this year, but we are not sure" he said. "There will be a meeting of the national board in June; they may decide then."

Tentatively, members of the Lutheran Mission have approved plans for a church building, with a seating capacity of 200.

"If we accept one of the board's plans, we should be able to save some money," Rev. Smith said.

Nothing, however, can be done until the board makes a decision on the building project, he said.

Seek Bids On Paint Projects

Bids for painting the two veterans housing projects of the Mansfield Metropolitan Housing authority will be received at its office up to April 5, E. R. Friday, secretary and director said today.

Friday said the work calls for putting on one coat of paint on the exteriors of the Grace street and on the South Diamond street projects. The first project has 24 housing units and the second, 26 units.

Belittles 'Romance' Charges

WASHINGTON — (AP) — An attractive blonde bride of less than a year charges her husband's attachment for 67-year-old Rep. Edith Nourse Roger's of Massachusetts wrecked her marriage.

Mrs. Eilene Diana Latta-Lawrence in a suit filed yesterday said her husband, Naval Captain Harold Alexander Latta - Lawrence, 47, had been on "close and intimate terms" with the orchid-wearing dean of Republican women in Congress for 20 years, often visiting her hotel suite "late into the night."

Called from the floor of the House and told of the suit, Mrs. Rogers said it was ridiculous."

Capt. Latta - Lawrence, described as tall, dark-haired and handsome, could not be reached for comment. A native of Toledo, he once was a secretary of Mrs. Rogers.

The suit does not seek a divorce, but asks for separate maintenance and an accounting of their joint property. However, one clause said if a divorce should be asked later, Mrs. Latta-Lawrence wants at least $300 monthly alimony.

Mrs. Latta-Lawrence said even before the marriage in April, 1948, Mrs. Rogers influenced her life. She said her husband twice postponed the wedding in order to get Mrs. Rogers' consent to it.

Mrs. Rogers attended the marriage in New York and says she "gave them many presents."

Two days after the ceremony on April 24, 1948, Mrs. Latta-Lawrence's suit says her husband told her she must no. live with him in Washington.

She said he explained it would "ruin his prospects for advancement in the navy and his expectations for financial approvements."

Mrs. Latta-Lawrence said her husband told her the marriage was "a cause of great misery and suffering" to Mrs. Rogers.

Thief Liable To Find Loot Flying Away

CLEVELAND — (INS) — For the third time in a year, thieves have rifled Frank J. Kmiecik's pigeon coops at night in Cleveland—this time making off with four birds.

Kmiecik, a lawyer and amateur pigeon-raiser, is unworried, however and expects the birds back within two or three weeks, just as before.

He can't understand why the thieves keep wasting their time because the birds are homing pigeons.

Seek Atomic Plant Site

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The Atomic Energy commission is for the construction of its proposed new $500,000,000 reactor plant in Idaho as soon as the exact site is decided on.

The commission announced late yesterday that it had selected a 400,000-acre tract near Pocatello.

However, surveying projects have not yet been completed and the exact boundaries have not been set.

The construction work, the commission said, will require up to 6,000 workers.

T-H Act Repeal Plan Approved

WASHINGTON — (INS) — A House Labor subcommittee today approved the administration's bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley law and restore an amended Wagner act.

The group voted eight to five along straight party lines to endorse the measure without change. The action was taken less than 48 hours after the subcommittee concluded two weeks of public hearing.

Hunt Space For Court

Commissioners Act On Judge's Request

County commissioners said today they would make an investigation of courthouse facilities in an attempt to provide space for a probate-juvenile courtroom.

Board President Guy F. Stewart said the commissioners at a meeting today decided to start their investigation in a day or so "to see what we can work out."

Probate-Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer, in a letter to the commissioners Saturday, formally requested the commissioners to vacate their offices in order to make room for a courtroom.

His letter said that for the past eight years he has been obliged to hold court hearings in his private office, which is 12 by 15 feet. The judge said the room "is wholly inadequate."

Asked if the court of appeals room might be used, Stewart said Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch would be the one to decide that.

Stewart said the fourth floor of the courthouse was a "possibility" but that would require a great deal of money for remodeling.

Ilse Koch Faces Trial

FRANKFURT — (INS) — German authorities announced today that Frau Ilse Koch will be extradited to Soviet-occupied Germany and tried for concentration camp atrocities when her current prison term ends on Oct. 18.

The Bavarian Ministry of Justice said it will comply with a request from the ministry of justice in Thuringia—a state in the Soviet zone—which plans to place the "witch of Buchenwald" on trial.

Buckenwald, site of the infamous nazi concentration camp, where Frau Koch's husband was commandant, is in Thuringia

It was charged at her trial that she had lamp shades made from the tatooed skin of concentration camp inmates.

Lift Rent Controls In Fayette County

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Removal of rent control from Fayette county, Ohio except Washington township, will be effective March 25, the housing expediter announced yesterday.

The announcement said the action was taken because surveys showed the demand for rental housing has been reasonably met.

Parents Plead for Daughter's Return

MILWAUKEE—(INS)—The grief-stricken parents of a slain high school girl pleaded today for their other daughter—who is missing—to come home for the funeral of 16-year-old Patricia Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert T. Birmingham asked newsmen to publicize that they would delay the services, scheduled for tomorrow morning, if their older daughter, Kathleen, 17, cannot return to Milwaukee in time for the rites.

Police issued a warrant last night for the 19-year-old youth, who is wanted for questioning in connection with the slaying of Patricia.

Patricia's body was found Sunday in the Milwaukee river. She had been shot twice in the head and her body was weighted with a 38½ pound concrete block.

The warrant charged Babich with contributing to the delinquency of a minor and was signed by the parents of the missing girl.

Kathleen and Babich had left notes for their respective parents saying they planned to be married. Although nationwide broadcasts to police for their apprehension have been made no trace of the young couple has been found.

Milwaukee police expressed fear for Kathleen's safety. Det. Captain Adolph W. Kraemer said:

"We want to know where Kathleen is. She may be in the drink, too."

Kraemer issued the statement after questioning one of Patricia's classmates, Ruth Miller, 16. She said the slain girl told her last Feb. 10, the day she disappeared, that she was going to meet Babich.

PATRICIA—slain

Miss Miller quoted Patricia as saying that Babich and Kathleen "were on the outs" and the missing youth was seeking her help to "patch it up."

Authorities believe Babich and Kathleen may be able to furnish clues concerning Patricia's death.

Police revealed that the youth withdrew $1,500 from a bank March 17, the day he reportedly eloped with Kathleen.

Only one clue has been recieved since the couple vanished. The keys to the Babich family car together with a Milwaukee parking ticket was mailed to the youth's father the day after he left home.

Candle and Lantern Era Gone

Modernize Fire Laws, Group Urges

By MARGUERITE MILLER

Mansfield's Fire Prevention committee wants to do something about the city's horse and buggy era fire laws that govern use of candles and lanterns.

City ordinances on fire protection say it's unlawful. Committee members think it's just far out of date. They believe it's time some of the "antiquated" rules of the city were changed.

And that's what they hope to do. W. G. Schultz, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce's fire prevention committee, who announced a "Clean-up, Fix-up, Paint-up and Control Rats" week for the city, May 1 through 7, said today the committee will study the ordinances and recommend that fire protection laws in Mansfield be brought up to date.

He specifically pointed to the "lighted candle" ordinance. Other such "antiquated" ordinances make it unlawful for any person "to set on fire, hay, straw, shavings or other combustible material in any alley or street;" to use a lighted candle in any shop where combustible material is kept; to carry fire through a street or lot except in a "secure pan or vessel; "or to hang a lantern closer than two feet and six inches from any wooden building."

For any of these offenses, the violator may be fined "not less than $5 nor more than $50 and costs of prosecution."

"Fire protection laws in Mansfield are very inadequate for the city's need," Schultz said. "The committee hopes to bring the laws up to date which evidently hasn't been done for many, many years."

16 HEAD DRIVE

The city's "spruce-up" week, sponsored jointly by the fire-prevention committee and the Junior Chamber of Commerce will have a working crew of 16 Mansfielders. Committee heads were appointed at last night's meeting of the sponsoring agencies.

Rat control, taken over by the Junior Chamber, will be headed by John Culler. Other committee heads include.

Arabs, Jews Sign Truce

Lebanon, Israel Agree On Peace

TEL AVIV — (INS) — Israel and her tiny northern Arab neighbor, Lebanon, signed a formal armistice agreement today.

The signing ceremony took place at the border village of Ras Ennaqura, climaxing three weeks of negotiations.

Lebanon thus became the second Arab state to complete an armistice accord with Israel. Egypt signed such an agreement at Rhodes last month, while Trans-Jordan is currently negotiating a similar pact.

The eight article agreement, outlawing "warlike and aggressive" actions by both sides, contains the following key provisions:

Israel will return to Lebanon 14 border villages occupied by Zionist troops during the Palestine war.

The existing international frontier will be recognied as the territorial border between the states.

Canada Cuts Income Tax

OTTOWA — (UP) — The Canadian government slashed income taxes 32 per cent today and cut 750,000 persons from existing tax rolls, retroactive to Jan. 1. This eliminated income, taxes for one out of every four present taxpayers.

In addition, taxes were cut on corporations and excise taxes were removed entirely from a list of items ranging from long distance telephone calls to chewing gum.

The tax revisions, effective at last midnight, were announced by Finance Minister Douglas Abbott and are included in the government's 1949-50 budget.

Other features of the new budget include lifting of import restrictions, effective April 1, on housing materials and the removal July 1 of import controls on fresh fruits and vegetables.

Flying Taxicabs Ordered to Start

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The Civil Acronautics board today instructed a Cleveland helicopter company to start service by July 1. CAB said they would not be allowed any more postponements

Yellow Cab company was instructed to provide helicopter service between the airport and downtown Cleveland, March 3, 1951.

3 Killed In Crash

FRANKFURT — (INS) — Three British airlift flyers were killed today when their Dakota transport plane crashed in northern Germany.

CHURCHMEN CONVENE

SPRINGFIELD — (AP) — The United Missionary church opened its annual Ohio district conference in nearby New Carlisle yesterday.

Miner's Daughter Fears the 'Outside'

Frail Girl 'Hides' From Rest of World

PITTSBURGH — (UP) — County detectives today told of a coal miner's frail young daughter who virtually imprisoned herself in a tiny room for years because she was afraid of the outside world.

The plight of Angeline Kramer, 24, came to police attention yesterday on a tip that a woman was being confined against her will in her Sturgeon, Pa., home.

Det. John R. Horvat made a "routine" investigation at the one-story frame building, which sits in an isolated hollow almost hidden by shrubbery, trees and weeds and is approachable only over a muddy lane.

He found the woman cowering naked in a small dingy room which contained only a bedspring. Horvat said she protested violently when taken from the house to Woodville state hospital.

After an examination, Dr. C. E. Poellot, a hospital psychiatrist, said she probably went into confinement voluntarily in an effort to escape fears of the outside world.

"She is suffering from a mental illness known as dementia praecox. It is a common form of insanity charactied by loss of interest in people and things." he said.

Neighbors who reported Angeline's existence to police said they had not seen her for five years. At times, they said, her shrieks would pierce the night.

Her mother, Mrs. Joanne Kramer, denied her daughter was forceably imprisoned. She told police she took care of Angeline with "motherly care," although she sometimes refused attendance and tore off her clothing.

Order Shows Monkeyshines Taking Place

CHICAGO —(INS)—Courtroom procedure moved into Chicago's Lincoln Park zoo today and Director R. Marlin Perkins did the following:

Decreed a 60-day cooling-off period in an effort to patch up the juvenile romance between two of his young gorillas.

Ordered separate maintenance for Lotus, 3, and Rajah, 2, in the hope that absence will make Lotus' heart grow fonder.

Considered Rajah's claim of cruelty because his girl-friend, who outweighs him considerably, persisted in slugging and mauling him.

Ruled that for the present they will see each other only during supervised play hours.

'Home Rule' Rental Bill Under Fire

Compromise Clause Seen As Solution

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Some Democratic senators predicted today that "home rule" provisions in the rent control extension bill will lead to "confusion" and "local politics."

Sen. John J. Sparkman, D. Ala., said a compromise "local option" clause voted by the Senate last night after stormy debate "well may be the source of a great deal of confusion.

The proposal, sponsored by Sen. J. William Fulbright, D., Ark., would let municipalities remove rent controls if the governor of the state authorized it. The Senate approved the plan, 45-35, with most southern Democrats joining Republicans on the winning side.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D., Minn., said, "it will take the whole rent control issue right down to the level of local politics."

Sparkman said rent control could become "a matter of political buck passing" if a governor and a city council were at odds politically.

The Senate action guaranteed that any rent control extension law will have some form of local decontrol in it. The house already has approved a measure letting any local government unit lift rent ceilings without having to go through the governor.

If the Senate passes its 12-month extension bill, as expected, a conference committee will try to work out a compromise between the two "home rule" versions.

Democratic leader Scott W. Lucas of Illinois said he would hold the Senate in Session tonight until action on the bill is completed. The present rent law expires eight days from now.

Rain Delays Meter Job

Rain has delayed raising the curb and re-setting the parking meters around Central park for parallel parking, Superintendent of Streets E. W. Davis said today.

Davis is anxious to get the project completed because it will tie up most of the street department's equipment and labor and keep them from other necessary street repair jobs, he said.

Workers will have to cut through the street to a depth of 18 inches to raise the four-foot sections of curbing and pack slag dust under them. The curbing will be brought to a height of seven inches It is now from street level to four inches high.

Davis estimated it would take six working days to complete the work.

Five Teachers 'Flunk' Tests

ANN ARBOR, Mich., — (UP) —Five professors and instructors who flunked a campus-wide student popularity poll may be fired and 42 who won "A" ratings may receive raises, University of Michigan authorities said today.

The university passed out 50,000 questionnaires three months ago to students in the college of literature science and arts asking that they rate their professors on 10 points.

About 11,000 students answered in the survey, flunking five of their teachers and giving superior ratings to 42 out of the 410 professors and instructors in the college.

Measure Returned For Vote

Wins Approval By Committee

COLUMBUS — (INS) — The Senate-approved oleomargerine bill was recommended for passage today by a 9 to 2 vote of the House Industry and Labor committee.

The measure permits the manufacture and sale of colored oleomargarine in Ohio. It passed the Senate March 7 by an 18 to 14 vote on reconsideration. Three days earlier it had lost in the Senate by a 15 to 15 tie vote.

The motion to recommend the bill for passage in the House committee was made by Rep. Roger Cloud (R.-Logan) immediately after the committee was called to order and without any discussion on the bill. Cloud stated, however:

"I expect to vote against the bill on the floor but I believe also it is entitled to a vote by the entire House."

Only votes cast against the measure in the committee were by two Republicans: Guy Hiner of Stark county and Robert Johnson of Medina county.

However, Rep. Floyd Rittenour (R.-Ross) who seconded Cloud's motion, also stated he would vote against the measure on the floor.

The bill to color oleomargarine was sent to the legislature by initiative petitions signed by some 200,000 voters, although less than 70,000 were needed.

If the measure is not passed to the satisfaction of its backers by the end of April the sponsors may submit the question directly to the voters in November if they secure an additional 70,000 signatures on new petitions.

Cool Spell To Be Brief

Spring left Mansfield today as suddenly as it had arrived when the temperature dropped to a chilly 35 degrees at 9:30 a. m.

Mansfield was one of the chilliest spots in the state this morning. Cleveland's temperature was 37, and it was 40 at Columbus, and 42 at Cincinnati.

But, while the weatherman predicted more of the same kind of weather today and tonight, he encouragingly forecast warm pleasant end-of-the-week weather. He said a warm air mass moving toward Ohio should push out by tomorrow the cold system currently covering the state.

Temperatures probably will rise into the 50's tomorrow, with readings in the 60's likely for Friday, he added.

The forecast for today is mostly cloudy and quite cool and partly cloudy and cooler tonight. There will be increasing cloudiness tomorrow, followed by showers at night.

Second Infant Left On Porch

SPRINGFIELD — (AP) — "There's a baby on your porch," the voice on the telephone said, "go out and get it and take care of it."

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pry followed directions last night and found a baby girl wrapped in blankets in a paper carton on their doorstep.

It was the second time in less than a month a baby had been abandoned here under similar circumstances. Last Feb. 25, Dr. Naomi Green received a similar call and found a baby boy on her porch.

Police said they had no clues to the identity of either child.

Physicist Succumbs

EAST ORANGE, N. J. — (AP) — Dr. Harvey C. Renschler, 68, one of America's outstanding physicists, died early today after a three-month illness. He was a retired director of the Westinghouse lamp division.

Tygers to Concentrate on Spring Sports

Cuff Stuff

By Fred Tharp

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

RELIEF PITCHING holds the key to the success of the Cleveland Indians is the thought advanced by Skipper Lou Boudreau. . . . The Tribe has eight first class starting pitchers but only Sam Zoldak shapes up as a reliefer. . . . The squatty southpaw has the rubber arm necessary to take over the hill chores with little or no warmup. . . . Such pitchers as Bobby Feller and Satchel Paige need about 15 minutes to get ready. . . . Of course, Russ Christopher fills the fireman bill but the lanky fellow probably won't play this year because of a heart condition. . . . Frank Papish, Early Wynn or rookie Mike Garcia may have the answer. . . . Garcia, a powerful fastballer, won 19 games with second-division Oklahoma City last season. . . . Larry Doby, Indian gardener, rooms with Orestes Minoso, a Cuban, and Jose Santiago, a Puerto Rican. . . . Neither speaks good English. . . . "I have to use sign language to talk to them," says Doby. "About the only thing they understand is when it's time to eat." . . . Doby speaks German and French with some degree of success but moans, "I guess I should have studied Spanish."

ASIDE to the Tyger booster club: Gentlemen, don't you think a recognition banquet for the Senior high basketball team would be in order. . . . Richland county high schools will be devoid of spring football this year but then only two of the six had it in 1948. . . . Shelby and now Senior high have given up the spring drills to concentrate on spring sports. . . . Madison, Bellville, Butler and Plymouth are the other county schools fielding grid teams.

MANSFIELD'S park board has tossed a curve at the already "poor" baseball facilities in town. . . . The lads of the elementary junior baseball league won't be able to use the park softball diamonds for baseball this summer. . . . The only ball diamonds now available are Liberty and Blue Goose. . . . However, if plans materialize, there will be a ball diamond at Arlington field and one behind the 40 et 8 club.

Senior High Gives Up On Spring Grid

By CHARLEY STINE

Senior high school will not have spring football this year, Coach Augie Morningstar announced today.

In view of the four-sport spring program already in effect, Morningstar said it appeared impossible to work four weeks of football practice into the scheme. A request made to the Ohio High School Athletic association to divide the alloted four weeks practice was turned down.

WANTED CHANGE

The Mansfield athletic director had asked permission to hold two weeks practice this spring and then start two weeks early next fall. Commissioner H. W. Emswiler and the board of directors said, however, that they could not change the rule except by a meeting of the member schools.

Morningstar indicated that he might sound out other Ohio schools on such a setup at the next OHSAA meeting. He pointed out that the other five members of the newly-formed Northern Ohio Athletic Conference are all having spring practice.

The six-team league will play its first season next year with Toledo Waite, Massillon, Alliance, Warren, Canton McKinley and Mansfield in the fold. Senior high is to play all league teams except McKinley.

TO START SOON

Practice for the baseball, golf and tennis teams will begin as soon as weather permits Augie said. Track men have been working indoors for two months and have been on the cinders at Stadium field several times.

Schedules for the four sports will be announced later this week.

Tennis Coach Fred Staub has already told his squad to practice at every opportunity on the asphalt courts. Golf, to be tutored once again by V. H. Oberlander, cannot start until the courses open in probably another two weeks.

Baseball Coach Jimmy Lymper has as yet issued no call for candidates.

"KIDS" GET TROPHIES—Last night was trophy night for captains of eight grade school basketball teams as they were rewarded for various championships after the finals of the grade school tourney at John Simpson. Bill Daugherty, left, presented trophies to: front row, left to right, Roy Miller, co-captain of Brinkerhoff reserves, southern league and tournament champions; Phil Tinkey, Newman, varsity tournament champions; Charles Culp, Bowman, Northern reserve league champions; John Westler and Bob Ernest, co-captains of West Fifth, Northern, league champions; and Chris Bowbary, West Fifth reserve tournament champions; back row Sir Swank, co-captain Brinkerhoff reserves; Robert Hulburt, Roseland, tournament consolation champs; and Larry Zartman, Brinkerhoff, southern league champions. The trophies were furnished by the Tyger club.

Newman's Grade School Basketball Winner, 11-10

Newman last night won the 1949 Mansfield grade school basketball championship by edging West Fifth, Northern league champion, 11 to 10, on the John Simpson junior high school floor.

For Newman it was the second big upset victory in two days. The Newman crew had beaten Brinkerhoff, the top-heavy tournament favorite, 13 to 12, Monday night. Newman had placed third in the Northern league during the regular season with five wins and three losses but took four straight in tourney play.

WINS RESERVE CROWN

Brinkerhoff won the reserve title in the four-game program last night. It defeated Bowman, 11 to 8.

In consolation contests, Roseland won from Bushnell, 8 to 5, in the varsity division and West Fifth topped Newman, 5 to 2, in the reserve section.

Richland County Track Meet Set At Stadium Field

Richland county's third annual track meet will be held at Senior high's stadium field on May 7, it was announced following a meeting of officials of the eight county schools yesterday.

The meet had originally been set for Bellville but was transferred because of the better facilities available here. Howard Hofacre, Lexington superintendent, who is in charge of the meet, said that a small admission charge will be made to offset the cost of renting the field.

The meet is scheduled in two sessions, 10 till noon for the preliminaries and 1 to 5 p. m. Bellville won last year's first full scale meet at Bellville while Ontario won the year before when only three teams participated.

Hofacre is sending out entry blanks to county schools and revealed that he expects to have all arrangements made for the meet within a couple weeks.

Lacy Looming As Top Scorer

DENVER — (INS) — Loyola of Baltimore and St. Francis of Brooklyn led the way today into the second round of the national Catholic intercollegiate basketball tournament at Denver.

Loyola star Jim Lacy gathered additional laurels last night by sparking his team to a thumping 75-to-58 victory over St. Ambrose of Iowa with 24 points. St. Francis squelched St. Norbert's of Wisconsin, 1 to 53.

Lacy lacks only 16 points of equalling the all-time collegiate scoring mark now held by Brooms Abramovic of Salem college, who tallied up 2,161 points.

Fight Results

(By Associated Press)

HARTFORD, Conn.—Ellis Ask, 126, Helsinki, Finland, stopped Joey Lonann, 126, Baltimore, 2.

BROOKLYN (Broadway Arena)—Harold Green, 163½, Brooklyn, outpointed Oswald Silva, 160½, Brazil, 8.

ST. PAUL, Minn.—Joe Brown, 140, New Orleans, outpointed Booger Ellis, 144, Chicago, 6 (top regular bout on Joe Louis-Hubert Hood exhibition card).

EAST LIVERPOOL — (INS) — East Liverpool school authorities had 27 applications for the city's vacant high school football coaching post today.

Stars End Season

GALION — The Galion Stars basketball team will close their season here next Sunday when they play the Cleveland Browns.

Corner Store Team Entered In State Meet

Frankie Mitsch's Corner Store basketball team will represent Mansfield in the Ohio recreation department basketball tourney in Canton this week end.

The Mitsch's quintet copped the Mansfield Class B championship and won third-place honors in the Richland County Gold Medal tournament. The Grocers won 32 of 38 games during the season and were undefeated in city league competition.

Manager Joe Miller plans to add a pair of players to his roster for the three-day tournament. Already signed is Ennis Walker, Madison football coach and former Bowling Green university athlete.

Regular members of the Mitsch's squad are: Eldon Pritchard, most valuable player in the Gold Medal tourney; Glenn Tschantz, Doc Poston, Dick Poth, Alex Bosko, Joe Radid, Leo Eldridge, Blaine Dowler and Miller.

Nine teams are scheduled to play in the Canton competition. Mitsch's will play the winner of the Canton-Niles game at 7 p. m. Friday. The tourney opens Thursday. Other cities represented are: Wadsworth, Columbus, Dayton, Lima and Akron.

Dayton Rens Play Redskins

ASHLAND— North-central Ohio will get one of its few looks at a National league professional basketball game tonight when the Dayton Rens meet the Sheboygan Redskins on the Ashland college boards.

The Rens, which also tour as the New York Rens, were runners-up in the world professional tournament last year in Chicago.

Admission for the game, scheduled to start at 8 p. m. is at regular league price, one dollar.

2 Junior 5's Split Lead In Church Loop

First Christian and St. Paul's continue to split the leadership of the Junior Church basketball league today with six straight victories apiece.

Last night at the YMCA, First Christian smothered Grace Gospel, 60 to 36, and St. Paul's won over First Lutheran, 34 to 24. The Christians piled on the points after leading only 16-13 at the half Warner of the First Christian topped the scorers with 24 markers while Nels Price had 16 for the Gospel five.

Third-place St. John's defeated Central Methodist, 43 to 15, and First Methodist won over First Presbyterian, 41 to 24, in other games. Dick Gore had 17 points for St. John's.

Kentucky Smashes Illinois, 76 to 47

NEW YORK—(AP)—It's a revived, rampaging Kentucky basketball team that will defend its NCAA championship in Seattle, Wash., Saturday against defense-minded Oklahoma A. and M.

Twenty-four hours ago Coach Adolph Rupp feared his magnificent senior quintet, the nation's top-ranked combine, might have "played itself out" and reached the end of its triumphant trail.

But these qualms vanished, the blue grass courts master said, when he saw his Wildcats crush Illinois' Big Nine titlists, 76-47, last night to win the eastern NCAA playoffs.

GROZA GETS 27

Led by Alex Groza, the big All-America center who pitched in 27 points, Kentucky just toyed with the mid-westerners and won breezing before a Madison Square Garden crowd of 15,126.

The Kentucky coach said he became alarmed about his team when it dropped a lackadaisical 67-56 decision to Loyola of Chicago in the quarter-finals of the national invitation tournament last week.

His worries were not relieved, he added, when his proteges won over Villanova, 85-72, Monday night in the semifinals of the eastern NCAA tournament.

"The 67 points that Loyola got were the most scored against one of my teams in 26 years," he said. "Then Villanova came along and topped that with 72."

In the consolation game, Villanova held Yale's fabulous Tony Lavelli to a single field in trouncing the Eli, 78-67. Paul Arizin rang in 22 points for the Philadelphians.

Ohio State Ball Teams Drop 2nd To Texas, 7 to 4

AUSTIN, TEX. — (UP) — The Ohio State university baseball team will attempt to salvage something today when it meets the university of Texas after losing the second straight game yesterday 7 to 4, before 3,000 spectators.

It was the Longhorns' 56th victory in 59 games against college opponents.

Dick Hauck and Gene Brown handled the pitching chores for the Buckeyes. Hauck allowed seven hits in six frames and Brown hurled hitless ball for two innings.

Texas left 10 men on base while Ohio State stranded nine. Hurlers for both sides gave up 16 bases on balls.

Michigan Is Favored In Annual NCAA Swim

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., — (AP) — Entries have reached a total of 47 for the 26th annual National Collegiate Athletic association swimming championship which opens here tomorrow.

Michigan, defending champion, is given the favorite's nod but Ohio State, Iowa, and Yale are conceded a strong chance to overthrow the titleholders.

Phillies, Red Sox Get Into Verbal Tiff

CLEARWATER Fla., — (AP) — The Grapefruit league is buzzing today about the words exchanged by Bob Carpenter, owner of the Philadelphia Phillies, and Joe McCarthy, Boston Red Sox manager.

The Philadelphia Inquirer carried this account:

When the Red Sox showed up for an exhibition game yesterday with a second-string line-up, Carpenter went to McCarthy and protested.

"I've been taking ball clubs to training camps for 18 years," McCarthy replied, "and I've always taken whoever I wanted to on trips. I don't think I'm going to be dictated to now."

"Why didn't you let us know you weren't bringing the men?" Carpenter asked.

At that point a Red Sox player chimed in: "Why didn't you telephone us and ask?"

"I can understand why they call you a push-button manager," snapped Carpenter.

"Get the hell out of here," roared McCarthy.

Before the start of the game, won by the Phils 9-7, the Phillies announced over the park public address system:

"Due to the fact that the mighty Red Sox, led by their great manager, Joe McCarthy, have not brought their stars the Phillies will gladly refund the admission price to anyone wishing it."

Only two fans requested a return of their money.

Carpenter later called McCarthy "an arrogant pilot who tried to handle things in a selfish manner."

"I feel that baseball should protect the fans in Florida who pay major league prices to see major league stars in action," said Carpenter, "and we owe it to them to put the best possible line-up in action."

Although Frank Fanovich won only nine games and lost 13 for Syracuse, the pitcher was chosen as the left-hander on the International league's all-star team.

'49 Softball And Tennis Groups Set

Committees to handle two phases of Mansfield's intensified recreation program were set up last night at the initial meeting of the Mansfield Athletic commission at the City building.

The Athletic commission has absorbed the softball and basketball governing bodies and will also direct the activities of such pursuits as recreation golf, baseball, badminton and volleyball. Appointed to the softball group were Joe Lesch, Fred Tharp, Conrad Neidhammer, Mick Roberts and Fred LaRue. Lesch and Tharp were members of the old softball commission.

WATTY HEADS TENNIS

Watty Slabaugh will be in charge of the tennis program with another member of the committee to be appointed at the next meeting of the group. The softball committee will meet March 31 at the recreation department.

Some 16 Mansfield sportsmen attended the organization meeting of the commission last night. Stan Kamen, recreation director, called the session after questionnaires to more than 50 Mansfielders evidenced the need for the new governing body.

Attending last night were: Lesch, Tharp, Neidhammer, Roberts, LaRue, Kamen, Charlie Saprano, Clarence Herrick, Ed Chatlain, Tom Wright, Ennis Walker, Gene Hartnett, Danny Markowitz, Charley Stine, Jack Paulson and Johnny Johnson.

Not able to attend because of other activities last night were: Harry Mehock, Jimmy Lymper, Slabaugh, Aid Geiger, Jim LeMunyon, John Fike, Johnny Perrine and Mike Wentz. Several more Mansfield sportsmen will be invited to hold down "chairs" in the commission before the next meeting.

Indians Go Down to Third Straight Defeat, 2-1

Defensive Lapse Allows One Score

BURBANK, Calif. — (INS) — Manager Lou Boudreau sought some way to give the Cleveland Indian batting attack a shot in the arm today as the Tribe moved against their cousins from the American league, the St. Louis Browns.

Whipped three times in their last three outings, the last a 2-1 loss yesterday against the Pittsburgh Pirates at San Bernardino, the Indians were to tangle with the Browns today in Burbank.

Again Tribal batting power, or lack of same, played an important part in the loss. But, except for a defensive lapse by Joe Gordon, Cleveland's star second-sacker, the two teams might be still playing.

GOES SIX FRAMES

Early Wynn pitched six innings for Cleveland, giving up both Pirate runs, one on Gordon's error, and driving in Cleveland's lone marker himself. Wally Westlake gave Pittsburgh the win when he broke a 1-1 deadlock in the fourth frame with a 380-foot clout over the left field wall.

The Pirates' first run came in the third on a walk, a sacrifice and Gordon's boot.

Cleveland collected but seven hits off Pittsburgh's Hal Gregg and Vic Lombardi, only two of them coming in the same frame. That was the third when First Baseman Mickey Vernon, making his first start of the season, doubled, and Wynn singled.

Otherwise, the Clevelanders in general, and Al Rosen in particular, were hitting in tough luck.

Rosen, who played the entire game at third base, got only one-for-four for the day, but missed out on two other almost sure hits.

★

3-Game Streak . . .

ORLANDO, FLA. — (AP) — Washington's Senators took a three game winning streak into today's grapefruit league contest with the New York Yankees.

The hitting of catcher Al Evans was an important factor in yesterday's 8-7 decision over the Minneapolis Millers of the American Association. Evans slammed a 395-foot home run in the third inning and added a pair of singles before retiring in the fifth.

★

Cubs to Trim . . .

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Manager Charlie Grimm of the Chicago Cubs soon will trim an 18-man pitching corps to 12.

Out of the final doen he will select 10 for the regular staff.

'Tomato Pickers' . . .

SAN BERNARDINO, CALIF. — (AP) — Lippy Durocher, New York Giant manager, claims rival clubs are offering "tomato pickers" in exchange for some of his sluggers.

"Nobody is giving up a star pitcher," Durocher said yesterday. "Pittsburgh for instance, expressed interest in Bobby Thomson. I mentioned Stan Rojek, Kirby Higbe and another pitcher to be named and they threw up their hands. That's the way it goes. They offer you tomato pickers but we have planty of them ourselves. So has everybody."

★

Pat Up for Sale . . .

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Rumors abound in the White Sox camp that Pat Seerey probably will be sold to Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast league.

Sox officials appear dissatisfied with Seerey's weight reducing campaign. The ex-Cleveland outfielder, who knocked 19 homers for the Sox last season, reported for training at 231 pounds. So far he is down to 221.

★

Rooks Look Good . . .

TAMPA, FLA. — (AP) — Into each life some cheer (as well as rain) must fall and that just about fits Cincinnati's Reds.

No one expects the Redlegs to do much more than answer present in the coming national league pennant race but they're having their cheer now.

First, it comes from seven victories in 10 starts against major league opposition in the Florida grapefruit league. And still more comes from the performance of a couple of rookies—outfielder Lloyd Merriman and second baseman Johnny Lane.

The Reds chalked up victory No. 7 yesterday as they walloped the St. Louis Cardinals, 8 to 5, and that pair of rookies wielded the big sticks.

Merriman cracked out a two-run homer in the first inning and Lane came through with a two-run double in the second. Both blows were off Harry (the cat) Brecheen, who is rated right highly on baseball's pitching roster.

A's Win Again . . .

WEST PALM BEACH, FLA. — (UP) — Connie Mack's Philadelphia athletics, who continue to get the best pitching in the entire state of Florida, were scheduled to meet the Brooklyn Dodgers here today, who occasionally have trouble getting any pitching at all.

Right-hander Dick Fowler of the A's easily mastered the Baltimore Orioles, 5 to 2, yesterday, yielding five hits in eight innings. Ray Coleman's triple in the first inning drove in Philadelphia's first two runs.

5 Friendly House Boxers Win Bouts On Galion Show

Six Friendly House boys fought in the VFW boxing show at Galion last night and five came out with their arms raised in victory.

Three won decisions, one scored a knockout and another a TKO. Only Mansfield boy defeated was Bill Eberhardt who lost a decision to Dick James of Marion, a last-minute substitution for Carrol Combs.

TWO ARE ADDED

Only four Friendly House boys were scheduled to fight but two others were added just before the show. Unscheduled was Jim Middlebrook who won a decision from Harold Reep of Ashland and Link Briggs who knocked out Bill Jack, Galion.

Bruce Heinberger hard punching little bantamweight, won in the third round from Tom Anderson, Ashland, when the referee stopped the fight. Howard Carney easily decisioned Howard Dixon of Galion and Lofton Fuque was given the nod over Bill Larue of Galion.

Some buffaloes are now found in South Russia. They are animals closely related to the ox.

WESLEY FESLER

Fesler Talks Tonight for JC's, Bosses

Wes Fesler, personable young coach of the Ohio State Bucks, will talk football to some 200 Mansfield JayCee's and their bosses tonight at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Fesler will share the spotlight at the annual Bosses' Night dinner with Mansfield's outstanding young man of 1948. Announcement of the winner of the distinguished service award will be made tonight with the presentation to John Rouzon, secretary-manager of the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce.

A nine-letter winner as a Buck athlete, Fesler has made tremendous strides after taking over as head Ohio State grid coach in 1947. His first team at OSU won two and lost six but last year the Bucks roared to six wins against three defeats.

The third defeat at the hands of Michigan, 14 to 3, knocked Ohio State out of a probable Rose Bowl bid. Fesler coached at Harvard, Connecticut Wesleyan, Princeton and Pittsburgh before returning to Ohio State. He was head basketball coach at Harvard, Wesleyan and Princeton.

MANY HONORS

Fesler is an all-time Ohio State end and made all-America three straight years. He was also all-Big Ten in baseball and basketball. Fesler's last speaking appearance in Mansfield was at the 1947 News-Journal football fete honoring the grid teams of Senior high and Madison.

Robert Murphy, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will act as toastmaster while entertainment will be provided by Gene Gump and the Humdingers barbershop quartet. Jim Guest is chairman of the JayCee social committee which is handling arrangements for the fete.

Percy Gets 644 Series At Colony

One of the city's lower-scoring leagues—the Transportation—broke in the big time last night as two honor roll 600's came out of its half-dozen matches.

George Percy rattled the boards for a big 255 second game to help himself to a 644 series. He had other games of 194 and 195 while rolling with Motor Cargo.

Gene Luedy, a regular in top bracket scoring, tossed 203-221-186—610 for the Teamsters. Harry Swimley, Geiger Distributing, was third with 583, L. Schaffer, Schmid's Tire Service, was third with 547, Robert Forsythe of Mansfield Upholstering, had 541, Adam Karbula, Commercial Motor, 525.

Fred Kinkel provided the oddity with three straight 108's for a 324 total.

Teamsters, a seventh place quintet, paced the teams with 2611 pins.

★

Lead in the Richland C league went to Kermit Beam, Doc Hamman, with 188-168-209-565. T. Cripe, Richland Recreation, was second with 213-189-144-546.

Others: Lou Faiello, Ritz Nite club, 525; Dick Gibson, Mansfield Plumbing, 522; W. Shaffer, Richland Aviation, 520; A. Malthaner, Leedy Electric, 506 and E. Faught Culp Jewelers, 500.

★

R. Bonanata was tops in the St. Peter's high school league with 211-157—368 while D. Kutchall had 178-177—355. Bonanata 211 was in the top ten as seven leagues bowled yesterday at the Colony and Richland Recreation.

J. Schmidt had 311 and Michalski, 308 in the league. Jean Cullen paced the feminine contingent with 241.

★

R. Russell's 566 was the leading count in the Westinghouse C loop. He had game of 163, 180 and 223. H. Rabal was second with 190-156-210—556.

Others: Nick Komjenovich, 536; J. Buchanan, 535; George France, 528; B. Jacobs, 526 and J. Bader, 522.

★

Westinghouse women were led by Eva Horning, 442. Grace Chronister, 441, and Ruth Metger, 418. Katy Nixon had 402 and Eileen Miller 367.

★

E. Poling missed the honor roll by only three pins while competing in the Elks league. He scored 230-191-176-597. G. French posted a 563 series, Jim LeMunyon had 555, Marvin Cairns 549, Harold Selby 543, Howard Hosler and Johnny Leppo 537, and Leo Yuncker 524.

★

A newcomer to the honor roll was Fred VanSteenburg of the Mansfield Tire league who racked up a 214-221-177-612 score.

Pappy Linkhart was runner-up with 572, Ed Davis had 570, J. Long knocked out 561 and Ed Weakland, 558. Other scores included J. Herf's 562; T. Marks, 545 and D. Barr, 542.

Linkart had the top single game, a 235.

Thumbnail Sketches of 'A' Teams

By JIM DAILEY

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Thumbnail sketches of class A state tournament teams:

TOLEDO CENTRAL CATHOLIC—Coach Larry Bondy is a graduate of Toledo Desalles college and Pat McCarty, athletic director, was an all-American center at Notre Dame. Four of the starters are 6-2, and the outfit's key man, guard Gene Hickey, is only 6-feet. Jerry McCloskey at center and Dick at forward are brothers who present a one-two scoring punch. The Irish are the fastest big club in the tournament, if not the fastest, period. The like the run both on offense and defense and one of their best weapons is a constantly pressing defense that never leaves the opposition. However, when the ball does get down to their territory they can slip into a zone without losing a stroke. Lost three games during the season.

★

AKRON ST. VINCENT'S—Coached by Ed Wentz, who says his boys like to run with the other guys and wear them out. The two guards—Leo Longville, 5-9 and Frank Stams, 5-11,—are the main cogs. Longville is considered the playmaker and the boy who brings the ball inside, and Stams is probably the smallest pivot man in the tourney. Tallest man is center Art Hunter at 6-3. Wentz also likes the pressing defense and it should be quite a spectacle Friday night when the St. Vincent's Irish start putting pressure on the Toledo Central Irish, for they both go by that nickname. Wentz' offense is to keep moving speedily, improvising as you go. St. Vincent's has lot five games.

★

NILES—Coached by Joe Bassett, who says he likes to think of his boys as "opportunists." Forward John Weber at 6-2 is the top scoring threat, and center Larry Lobaugh is the tallest boy at 6-4. Bassett would like to correct the impression that his boys "are cheese champion" because they've gotten this far in spite of losing nine games. He says that his team was absolutely a new one in the beginning, Niles having lost its entire first string last year, and thus were defeated in some early season games from lack of experience. About the middle of the season they started to come along, he says, and when they hit tournament time they were ready. Bassett tries the fast break during the first part of the game, and if it doesn't work goes into a set pattern offense.

★

HAMILTON PUBLIC — Coach Warren Schooler says he has nine first stringers but starts the five who are seniors for their added experience. Forward Bill Wilks, 6-3 is the top scorer and forward Gene Baldwin, 6-1, is the captain. Jim Bailey 6-1 negro center, is a football hotshot at halfback. Guard Bernie Griesinger, 6-1, is the playmaker and brings the ball to the opposition. Schooler says he adjusts his play according to the defense but likes to use the fast break. Hamilton starts with a double pivot but if things get complicated switch to the conventional single pivot. Scholler also likes to run because he has the reserves. Scholler uses the shifting man-to-man defense almost exclusively. Hamilton lost one game, that an early season defeat at Portsmouth. The big blue has been awarded favorite status by most experts.

Whisler Touted For Coaching Job

JACKSON — (UP) — Jackson high school officials are seeking to obtain the coaching services of "joltin' " Joe Whisler, Ohio State's star fullback for the past three seasons, and Howard Tiefke, center on the Buck grid squad last season, it was learned today.

Whisler, it was learned, has been offered the job as head football coach and Tiefke is wanted to take over the head basketball coach spot and assist Whisler in football.

Move On to Keep Cage Game 'Open'

SEATTLE — (UP) — A move to keep basketball games wide open until the final gun by giving two free throws for fouls made in the last two minutes of the game today appeared to stand a good chance of acceptance.

The rule will be introduced to the National Association of basketball coaches meeting here today and tomorrow.

Mansfield Duo Third In Meet

Martha Dye and Billie Cleckner of Mansfield hold down third place in doubles at end of seven weeks rolling in the 24th annual Ohio Women's bowling tournament at Lorain, figures released today show.

The tournament concludes this week end.

Hirose Is Ruled To Miss NCAA

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Buck swimmer Halo Hirose has been ruled ineligible for the NCAA crown splash at the end of the week.

Hirose, who hails from Hawaii, spent his freshman year at the University of Hawaii, which didn't have an athletic program. At OSU he swam for three seasons.

However, the ruling says that a swimmer has only four years of college eligibility, whether he uses them or not.

No Favorites Listed In Big Steeplechase

LONDON — (AP) — Pick a long shot from Ireland and you might back the winner of the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree next Saturday.

No favorite has captured the National since Sprig scored with a cut foreleg in 1927 and paid off at 8 to 1.

Cash reward for the four and one-half mile grind over 30 rugged jumps will be $37,868 this year.

LOOKS LIKE IT

Cromwell, to be ridden by his nobleman owner, Lord Mildmah of Flete, looks like the starting favorite. Of the 50 horses still in the field, Cromwell was quoted at 8 to 1 in the latest callover. Mildmay rode Cromwell to third place a year ago.

Besides the Irish, the only foreign candidates are from America. They are Caddie II, owned by Paul Mellon of Washington, and Replica, owned by Richard K. Mellon of Ligonier, Pa. Both are longshots.

Leading Homer Hitter Signs As Roswell Manager

ROSWELL, N. M. —(AP)— The Roswell Rockets have signed Bob Crues, co-owner of organized baseball's home run record, as their 1949 manager. He also will play first base in directing the Roswell team's maiden campaign in the Class D Longhorn league.

Crues socked 69 home runs last season for Amarillo in the West Texas-New Mexico league. His feat tied the 1933 mark and all-time baseball record of Joe Hauser with Milwaukee in the American Association.

Now 30, Crues broke into organized baseball in 1939 with Lamesa of the West Texas-New Mexico loop. After a brilliant start as a pitcher, he was hit on the arm in 1941 while with Canton, O., in the Middle Atlantic league. When his pitching arm went bad, Crues turned outfielder and since has played with Borger, Lamesa and Amarillo—all WT-NM clubs.

Courthouse Calendar

COMMON PLEAS COURT

Weather Seal of Central Ohio, Inc., 460 Newman street, vs. Margaret Robbins, 244 Pennsylvania avenue. Court renders confession judgment for $373 in favor of plaintiff on cognovit note.

Ellsworth Schaffer vs. Marie Horn, administratrix of estate of Mary O. Wagner, deceased. Defendant denies most allegations in Schaffer's suit for $1,624 for services he alleged he performed. Adds that there is no cause for action because of statute of limitation and says the plaintiff lived in a separate house on the Wagner farm, rent free, and any services were in payment for living quarters.

Ready Mixed Concrete, Inc., 341 East Second street, vs. Paul Alexander, 138 East First street, Edward J. McNamara, 441 South Diamond street; Delmar Shreve; and Frank A. Balbaugh, Mansfield, R. D. 1. Court finds plaintiff is entitled to judgment of $289 from Alexander as due for materials in putting up dwelling in Homesite Gardens. Others named as defendants in that McNamara and Shreve owned the property at the time and later was transferred to Balbaugh.

Elina Prinz, 55 East Fourth street, vs. Paul Knappenburger, West Augustine avenue, and Ohio Public Service company. Entry shows parties have settled and case dismissed. She had sought an injunction to prevent Knappenburger from collecting $150 meter deposit and the OPS from turning it over to him. She claimed she gave the money to Knappenburger and he put the deposit in his name.

Hayes Hopes To Win All

CINCINNATI — (AP) — If Miami university doesn't win all of its football games next season it's going to be a big surprise for coach Woody Hayes.

Hayes told a luncheon of Redskin alumni yesterday:

"I'm not the crying towel type of coach. We expect to have a good football team at Miami next fall and I, personally, will go into every game thinking we can win it.

"None of my athletes ever will hear me say, 'I don't think we can win the next one.'"

Flying Squirrels In Class!

Bowman School Fourth Grade Goes Zoological

"School was never like this when I was a boy' ".

That's probably what grandpa would say if he could see the science collection in the fourth grade at Bowman school taught by Miss Helen McCauslin.

And grandpa might add that when he was a lad he was punished for taking frogs and such things into the school room. Out at Bowman the youngsters are encouraged to take specimens of animals, insects and birds to Miss McCauslin's room.

This class in science is not a compulsory one. Pupils choose it because of the enthusiasm of the teacher. They study it in their activities period and often correlate it with their English period, learning to write good English through describing some of their science projects.

"When we first thought of this study, the children suggested things they would like to know about plants and animals and we listed them on the blackboard, Miss McCauslin recalled.

"Each child chose one question for which he wanted to find the answer. These answers were found in supplementary reading books, in library books, encyclopedias, dictionaries, science books, by observation and by asking their elders about things they wanted to know."

Each child brought his report to school, with pictures to illustrate his text. Later these reports were read at an assembly in the auditorium and Miss McCauslin showed the pictures through the delineascope on the screen.

As each of these steps was completed, enthusiasm mounted among the 37 children in the class. Finally, the reports and pictures were mounted and put on display around the room.

Now the project definitely belongs to the 37 pupils of the fourth grade.

When they began bringing live objects to the school as a further step in their study of basic science, the bond between teacher and pupil interest was forged into a strong link.

David Spellman, whose two flying squirrels he tried for fifteen minutes to grab so that he might have his picture taken with one of them, reports:

"I found them in the barn at my grandpa's farm near Lodi," David relates. "I caught them in a wire rat trap and took them home in it. Then my Dad made the wooden cage and put them in and I brought them here."

They are pretty, bright-eyed little animals, not quite as large as a gray squirrel but very wild. Even after being in the room with the children, they refuse to be tamed but they eat in spite of their fear.

Nancy Ashford was enthusiastic about the dead squid she brought to school.

"What on earth is a squid?" she was asked.

She explained in detail that its something like an octapus, and has ten feet and in a battle with a shark will sometimes come off the winner.

But Nancy's squid was a dead one so it couldn't be kept.

However, the "zoo" includes two live turtles brought by Jimmy Lutz and Lee Carns; goldfish, the contribution of Robert Maffet,; toad found by Roger Pirrgo; bird nests by Sandra Andrews, Lee Carns, Nancy Spiegel, Ronald Reinhart and Walter Jones.

Carolyn Cutnaw collected rocks, Dixie Davis, Ronald Reinhart and Nancy Sperzel took shells and starfish to school and moss was brought from the woods by Nancy Ashford, one of Miss McCauslin's most enthusiastic pupils.

In addition to the study about animals and birds, plant life comes in for a share of the children's interest. They make posters using leaves, seeds and colored pictures.

In addition to adding interest to the subject matter, all these displays and live animals add a colorful atmosphere that is completely un-schoolteacherish.

It would be difficult to understand why anyone would ever want to play hooky in that particular fourth grade.

A WOODCHUCK'S HOME—Nancy Spiegel points to the window in the fallen tree where lived a woodchuck, while Ronald Reinhart looks on with interest. The two are pupils in the fourth grade at Bowman school.

Ohio House Faces 'Hot Potato' In FEPC Discussion Today

Dems, GOP Form Lines For Fight

Close Voting Seen Assured

COLUMBUS —(AP)—A first-class fight over FEPC shaped up in Ohio's closely divided House of Representatives today.

The administration - backed measure to ban job discrimination comes to a vote with almost solid Democratic support. Republicans strongly oppose it.

Democratic leaders said they could pick up enough Republican votes to offset party losses. Republicans denied it. The division appeared razor thin.

The measure in recent weeks ran into such controversy that Gov Frank J. Lausche appeared before a House party caucus in its behalf.

The result was agreement to make changes designed to win sufficient Democratic support for passage with the aid of a few Republicans

House leaders said a floor amendment would require a Fair Employment Practices commission to use only its own employes to investigate complaints The bill approved by the House Labor committee permits the commission to have agents or organizations make them

Some opponents indicated they might support the bill if religious groups had to comply with fair employment practice laws. The proposed law exempts them. Demand for a number of other changes were expected from the floor

Religious, racial and labor groups demanded compulsory FEPC. Employer and business spokesmen opposed it. They suggested a voluntary educational program to encourage anti-discrimination in employment.

The measure would make it an unfair labor practice to use racial or religious discrimination in hiring or firing workers. Labor unions could not discriminate on membership.

A five-member FEPC commission would be created to hear complaints of violations and effect compliance It would use the courts to enforce orders and fines

Employers of more than 12 persons could not discriminate against workers because of race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry.

Urge Improved Fire Ordinance

Schultz said school children will be given two inspection blanks, one for their own home and another for a neighbor who has no children in school. The city street department will set up a schedule to pick up combustible trash in all wards in the city and the fire department will "take orders" for burning off vacant lots and piles of trash.

Boy Scouts At Bellville Honored

City P-TA's Check On Progress

List Achievements In Past 4 Years

An evaluation of the Mansfield P-TA council for its work during the past four years was discussed at a council meeting last night at John Simpson junior high.

Emphasized in the discussion were six specific points which have activated the council program.

It has supported hearing conservation among Mansfield school children. It promoted publicity for bond issues for new school buildings and salary increases for teachers.

During the past few months plans were made to start a safety driving course at Senior high school next fall. The summer round-up of pre-school examinations was given impetus by the council's support. A school of instruction for P-TA representatives and the annual presentation of the Edwin Strawbridge production were the two final activities mentioned.

In all these, the council has acted as liaison between the local units and the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The meeting last night opened with a flag salute by Senior Service Troop No. 24. Girl Scouts, led by Mrs. Samuel Theaker.

Mrs. E. G. Pankow, president, conducted the business session, during which it was voted to pay dinner reservations for two delegates from each of the 11 school P-TA units at the North Central District conference to be held at Fostoria, March 31.

Representatives, however, must furnish their own transportation. Reservations must be submitted to Mrs. Paul Old, secretary, not later than Friday of this week.

Council members also voted to write state representatives urging support and passage of Senate Bill No. 49, providing salary increases for teachers.

It was decided to sponsor the Strawbridge production next October. This year it will be "Robinson Crusoe."

Mrs. P. M. Stahl, West Fifth; F. F. Smith, Rebecca Grubaugh; Robert Hartmann, Newman principal; Mrs. George Cretors, Johnny Appleseed; and Russell Phipps, Hedges, were appointed as a nominating committee to present a list of officers for the April meeting.

At that time a president, corresponsing secretary, first vice president and a treasurer will be nominated. Officers serve for two year terms; other officers still have a year to serve.

It was decided that a summary of all council meetings would be prepared by Hobart Robinson, Prospect principal and distributed among the various P-TA units in the city.

Boys Get Court Tips

The professionals gave instructions to the amateurs last night as City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch and County Prosecutor Harold Lutz gave some important tips to boys training as defense and prosecuting attorneys in the YMCA bicycle court program. Probate Judge Stuart H. Cramer introduced the men.

Kalbfleisch told the 16 boys assembled in municipal court room of the precedure and tactics used by defense attorneys. He explained how to present cases and the proper way to file an affidavit.

Lutz explained three methods of getting convictions. The acts and operations of the violation must be checked, the defendant must be told the exact nature of his crime, and evidence must be investigated and presented without error, he said.

The group will meet again March 29 for its first mock trial. Judge Cramer will act as professional advisor. The court is scheduled to open officially on April 9, at 10:30 a. m.

Singers Offer Popular Music

A program of popular music that will suit a variety of tastes will be presented here by the Denison university glee club Friday night.

The group is being presented by the Campbell and Lake classes of the Park Avenue Baptist church in the John Simpson auditorium at 8:15 p. m.

A Mansfield man, George F. Lake, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Lake and a member of the Baptist church, is business manager of the glee club. He also is baritone soloist and will sing two special numbers Friday night.

The group of 37 men is being directed by Robert W. John, instructor of music at the Denison Conservatory of Music.

3 Districts Top Quotas

Two more precincts and a township topped their Red Cross quotas yesterday, campaign headquarters reported.

Total receipts so far are $34,477.99, leaving a balance of about $13,357 to collect in the final week.

Mrs. LeRoy Wittemire reported a total of $175 received in precinct D of the First Ward with a quota of $150. In Precinct C, Third Ward, Mrs. Carl Ortman collected $1,463 with a quota of $1,405.

Mrs. Harley Black of Worthington township turned in $114. Her quota was $84.

Other business firms added to the 100 per cent list were:

Independent Beauty and Barber Supply company, Page Dairy, Nickles Bakery, Home Materials, Equitable Life Insurance company, Dr. C. W. Frickman's office, International Business Machine firm, Leslie Wagner's office, Mansfield Community Chest, Holibaugh-Wolfe Insurance company, John Moore, Auxter Motor company, Batson Furniture company, Stuhldreher Floral store, Prudential Insurance company, Haring's market, Dr. P. O. Staker's office, Mayberry and Balliet, Acousticon company of Mansfield, YMCA, Richland Auto Parts, and the Cities Service company.

Dickson House to Be Parsonage

Baptist Church Gets Marion Avenue House

The Park Avenue Baptist church has purchased the J. Harvey Dickson property at 560 Marion avenue as a parsonage, H. E. Neese, chairman of a special parsonage committee, said today. Purchase price was $19,000.

The home is a nine-room brick house with a lot 110 by 175 feet. It is located diagonally across from the Grace Brethren church on Marion avenue.

Purchase of the property was made possible through the bequest of the late Miss Katherine Bauer, a member of the church. Besides a cash bequest of $22,000, Miss Bauer left her home on Helen avenue to the church.

The new parsonage will be a memorial to Miss Bauer and her sisters who were active members of the church for many years.

The Dickson property is in excellent condition, Neese said. However, the church expects to modernize the kitchen. There are four bedrooms in the upstairs and a small room that can be used as a study by the pastor, Dr. W. M. Taylor.

The lower floor contains a large living room, dining room, kitchen and dinette. The basement, Neese said, is of sufficient space to be made into a recreation room later on if the church wants it.

The house is expected to be available for repairs about May 1. However, if the Dicksons find another home before that time, the church will take over the property immediately, Neese said.

Rain Fails to Deter Large Gathering At Revival Meet

In spite of the rain, a crowd that filled the main auditorium at John Simpson junior high, heard Rev. Jack Shuler discuss the subject "What is the Difference?" in another of the union revival campaign services here.

J. Stratton Shufelt arrived yesterday to take over direction of the singing last night and to present as a solo, "Lift Your Eyes to Calvary."

In his sermon last night the evangelist pointed out that "sickness, war, death and sin know no difference among men. All have sinned and come short of the glory of God," he said, quoting Scripture.

He emphasized that everyone at some time or other has broken the Ten Commandments, Rev. Shuler described the seriousness of this by quoting again from the Bible, "For whosoever shall keep the whole law and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all."

"For a universal malady," he declared, "there is a universal cure—all who call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved."

Tonight, Rev. Shuler will preach on the theme, "A Peek Behind the Curtain at Eternity."

Approximately 150 persons heard Rev. Shuler give a running account of Ephesians at the noon meeting yesterday at the First United Presbyterian church, Harry Clark, who led the singing until Shufelt arrived, and Les Barnett, organist, also took part in the services.

District Hi-Y Parley Booked

Representatives from seven Ohio cities and their advisers will attend an organizational meeting of the District Hi-Y here March 29.

James Williams, assistant secretary of the Ohio West Virginia YMCA office in Columbus will be here to meet the group.

Philip Bolin, past district president, will serve as temporary chairman and Robert Schmidt, "Y" youth work director, will represent Mansfield.

Other cities to send delegates are Wooster, Millersburg, Ashland, Fredericktown, Massillon and Orrville.

P-TA Bazaar Brings $291

A net profit of $291.20 was made by the East Mansfield P-TA from its bazaar last Friday night, according to committee reports at the P-TA meeting last night.

Committee chairmen and their individual reports were as follows: Mrs. Ralph Keil, home canned goods, $11.30; Mrs. Francis McBride, home made articles, $78.50; Mrs. Ralph Winkler, cakes, $81.20; Mrs. Auburn Dilliger, fish pond, $28.10; Harley Trease, white elephant sale, $15.14; Herman Gross, games, $40.70; Mrs. Quentin English, food, $34.22.

The association plans to purchase a picture screen, a coffee urn for the school kitchen and other articles needed as school equipment.

Plans were made for a round and square dance to be held Friday, April 29 at the school. Henry Sheets and Virgil J. Frazier were appointed as committee chairmen.

Plans were also initiated for the annual school lawn fete to be held May 13. In case of rain, it will be held on May 14. Ticket committee members are Clarence Malott, president of the P-TA and Henry Sheets. Publicity will be in charge of E. J. Reynolds and Mrs. Joseph Bradley. Other committee members will be appointed at the meeting on April 26.

The nominating committee named last night includes: Carl Daugherty, Mrs. Winkler and Mrs. Paul Thrush.

Pupils of Mrs. Thrush's room won the banner made by Mrs. Winkler for having the highest parent membership in the association.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ethel Russell, Mrs. Vernon Peck and Mrs. Edward Swetlic.

Rankin Pension Bill at Debate Stage

NOW THAT Congressman John E. Rankin's veterans' pension bill has reached the point of being debated in the House, the pro and con of this multibillion-dollar proposal seems likely to be widely discussed, not only by veterans but by all persons who give thought to the immensity of obligations that would devolve on successive generations through the next fifty years.

As drafted by Rankin. Mississippi congressman, the bill would provide a $90-a-month pension at age 65, for all veterans who served as long as 90 days in either World war—at an estimated cost of more than 100 billion dollars in the next fifty years.

While veterans of World War I, for some of whom the age of 65 is not far removed, may find such a proposal appealing, there is appearance of realization on the part of younger veterans that they and their children will be required to pay the heavy taxes that such huge expenditures would impose.

Payments under the Rankin plan would be in addition to other benefits to veterans and their dependents, on which the government has been expending more than six billion dollars a year since the end of World War II.

Public sentiment has strongly favored expenditure of public funds for all possible attention to veterans who are handicapped by service-acquired disabilities, and for the care of their dependents, but it would appear that such immense costs as would accrue in carrying out provisions of the Rankin bill would become more burdensome than beneficial to a majority of veterans.

'Self-Help' Expected of Pact Nations

ONE of the key articles of the proposed North Atlantic defense treaty is the third, which states that the parties to the treaty will maintain their armed strength "by means of continuous and effective self-help and mutual aid." The interpretation placed on this article will largely determine the cost of the agreement to the United States.

The meaning of it at the beginning of the treaty period has already caused rumblings of political trouble in Washington. What it is reported to mean at the outset is that Congress will be asked to approve the expenditure of one or two billion dollars for arms for European countries, in the first year of the treaty.

It is well known that, with the exception of Great Britain, the military forces of the European countries which are to be parties to the treaty are in poor condition. This is understandable. The conditions of national life in Europe over the past decade or so have been trying and exhausting. It is a practical fact that if we want any effective military help from those nations in the near future we will have to provide the necessary arms.

By some means it should be made unmistakably clear, however, that over the longer period of the treaty each nation will be expected to contribute its just share of self-help. No nation anywhere should be given any reason to enter this defensive alliance in the belief that it thereby becomes a ward of the United States, to be provided freely and permanently with military strength.

Assistance in military preparations under the defense treaty should be based on the same principles as those which underlie the economic aid of the Marshall Plan—helping the free nations of Europe to make themselves strong.

Where Conditions Impel Thrift

SUCH SAYINGS as "Waste not, want not," and "Look after the pennies and the dollars will look after themselves," are seldom heard nowadays and not generally heeded in this land of plenty.

The principal back of them still motivates the French people, however, according to observers. The French army uses helmets issued in 1914 and hauls coal in horse-drawn carts. Twenty-year-old taxis are still running, and some patrons of good restaurants bring in their own sandwiches to eat with their orders of coffee.

Cigaret butts are retrieved and saved in boxes, and the job of rag-picker is rewarded by very slim pickings. French janitors are willing to work without pay in hotels and other buildings occupied by Americans, claiming they can live on throw-aways

Some of the French thrift results from present necessity, some of it from long habit. Americans would not by any means agree that there is wisdom in thrift carried to such a degree as the use of horse-drawn carts or the retrievement of cigaret butts

But there is provocation to thought in the report that Frenchmen can live on what Americans cast away. Open-handedness, like thrift, is not an unmixed virtue It might pay some people in this country, in the use of material blessings, to be less expansive and more thrifty.

Einstein's Name Will Live Long

OF ALL Americans living today, the one most likely to be remembered 500 years from now is possibly Albert Einstein, who has just celebrated his 70th birthday. As far back as 1922 he won the Nobel prize for physics. He was forced out of Germany by the Nazis, who later might have been very glad to have his help Since 1933 he has been living at Princeton, N. J., where he is a life member of the faculty of the Institute of Advanced Studies.

Not the least remarkable fact about Einstein is that, in addition to having advanced the theory of relativity, which makes over our concepts of the universe, he has made his name a universal byword Everyone has heard of Einstein, and the fact that no one comprehends him adds to the attraction of his personality.

Klan Obnoxious, Even In South

ONE of the current proposals for outlawing the Ku Klux Klan comes from Gov. Fuller Warren of Florida. There is always a tendency to think of the Klan as a southern institution, but as a matter of fact the Klan and its principles are just as repulsive to enlightened leaders in the South as anywhere else in the nation. They, too, are embarrassed when demagogues defend the Klan.

It might be helpful for Americans to keep in mind, when the Klan is mentioned nowadays, that it is at least as likely to be found north of the Mason-Dixon Line as south of it, and that its activities are as likely to be religious as racial.

Delay Brings Complaint

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — Over two months ago a special commission appointed by Secretary of the Army Kenneth C. Royall returned from Germany where it was sent to investigate the program designed to break up the giant German cartels that had helped to foment Adolf Hitler's war of aggression and supplied his war machine.

The secretary acted on the basis of a mass of firsthand evidence submitted to him by former officials who were familiar with that program in Germany, which showed the successive steps by which it gradually had been abandoned by the American military government headed by General Lucius D. Clay.

The old pattern was appearing again. Gradually former nazi financiers and industrialists were regaining influence and prestige.

Senator Kilgore (D., W. Va.), who is much concerned about our policy in Germany, has been prodding the department of the army for the commission's report. It still has not been completed and submitted to Secretary Royall.

The West Virginia senator is well informed about the German cartels and their part in the war from the very exhaustive investigation he directed as chairman of a special military affairs subcommittee and a trip to Germany immediately after the war when he gathered considerable documentary evidence.

He thinks that Congress and the American people ought to know what is happening in Germany.

It develops now that there is a controversy within the three-man commission, which consists of Garland S. Ferguson, federal trade commission member, its chairman; Samuel Isseks, New York lawyer, formerly in charge of the justice department's anti-trust division's New York office, and Arthur Kearney, Chicago business management expert.

Mr. Isseks is objecting to the delay in the report. Chairman Ferguson now is proposing to resubmit some of the testimony taken in Germany to army officials there, presumably for rechecking, which would string the whole process out longer.

* * *

Delaying Tactics.

PERSONS familiar with what is going on are afraid that this dilatory procedure may result, in the end, in what they call a "whitewash" of officials in Germany who have been responsible for policy in the decartelization program.

They fear a repetition of the sort of intimidation already used in one case, that of Alexander S. Sacks, a New York lawyer attached to the decartelization branch.

He was suspended by the American military government because of criticism of former Under Secretary of the Army William H. Draper, jr., and other officials in testimony he gave the Ferguson commission at its request. Mr. Sacks accused these officials of hampering the decartelization program.

Mr. Ferguson, who remained in Germany after the other two members of the commission had returned to this country, turned the whole record of the investigation, including Mr. Sacks' testimony, over to Lawrence Wilkinson, economic adviser to General Clay which was most irregular procedure, to say the least

Mr Sacks recently was reinstated as the result of the outcry here over the summary treatment accorded him and a protest to the department of the army by Wendell Berge, formerly head of the justice department's anti-trust division in which Mr Sacks himself was employed at one time.

Frankly Speaking

School of Hard Knocks

By JAMES MARLOW

(Editor's Note: This is the second of four stories on the Atlantic Pact, giving its background and its purpose)

* * *

Class opened in 19.. with World War I. We thought Europe's business was not our business. We thought we could stay out. We couldn't.

Next class: League of Nations. We skipped this because we hadn't learned World War I's lesson: That what happens in Europe involves us.

Next class: World War II. This was the unforgettable lesson. Hitler taught it: Divide and conquer. We thought we could stay out. We couldn't.

But we didn't get in till he owned most of the continent of Europe, knocking off the democracies one by one. [illegible] ian and a few neutrals stayed out of his hands. Yet, the democracies were our friends, not Hitler.

If we had learned World War I's lesson, and let Hitler know before he got started that we'd support the democracies, he might not have started.

Next class: United Nations. Having learned now we'd always be neck-deep in Europe's doings, we joined U. N. to keep peace

Next class: U. N. wasn't working. Russia picked up where Hitler left off, began gobbling up the nations of eastern Europe.

Next class: We decided to do something about the lesson learned from Hitler—that any strong power, which could pick off one country after another in Europe, could dominate Europe and maybe the world.

So we set up the Truman Doctrine.

Under the old Monroe Doctrine we wouldn't let a foreign power get a foothold on this continent lest it endager us.

* * *

An Idea Has Grown.

UNDER the Truman Doctrine we said the world was smaller now, our frontiers were no longer our own shores, that our frontiers henceforth would be any place in the world where we thought danger might start for us.

We began the Truman Doctrine by giving help to Greece and Turkey to put a brake on Russia.

Next class: we extended the Truman Doctrine. Realizing the democracies in the west, weakened by the war wouldn't be any match for Russia if she reached out for them, directly or indirectly, we set up the Marshall Plan to get them on their feet with goods and money.

Next class: The communists grabbed off Czechoslovakia. That made a solid wall of communist countries facing the western democracies.

Next class: Those democracies, jittery about Russia, got together, formed the western European union, called the Brussels Pact.

On the day the Brussels Pact was formed, March 17, 1948, President Truman told congress

"This development deserves our full support. I am confident that the United States will, by appropriate means extend to the free nations the support which the situation requires."

Three months later, on June 11, 1948, the U. S. Senate gave its blessing to this country's taking part in a defense set up like the Brussels pact.

So, in the summer of 1948 this country started talking with the Brussels Pact countries and Canada to extend the pact.

Last Friday the North Atlantic Alliance was announced. Taking part: U. S., Canada, Britain, France, the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, Norway, Italy, Portugal, Iceland and Denmark were invited to join. What's the purpose?

To help each other arm: To help each other out in case of attack; and by setting up the pact, to serve notice on Russia that an attack on one would be an attack on all.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

"It's nice of you to call, but to be honest about it, you don't have to thank us for the nice weather we've been having lately."

Ferguson Denies Asking Coplon Probe

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON.—G. O. P. Sen. Homer Ferguson must be getting jittery over his election probe back in Michigan. At any rate something has thrown Homer's balance wheel out of gear.

The other day, the Michigan senator, supposed to be a great prosecutor and investigator, let it be known to the press that two years ago he had informed Attorney General Tom Clark about Judith Coplon, the justice department analyst recently caught handing government documents to a Russian diplomat in New York.

The implication was that Clark had sat on his hands for two years while Miss Coplon got away with justice department secrets.

When Attorney General Clark heard of the Ferguson statement, he was, to say the least, flabbergasted, and sent word to the senator that he would give him 15 minutes to take back his statement.

Ferguson was quick to reply. He sat down and wrote Clark a humble longhand note taking back what he had said. The senator's excuse was that he had been misquoted. He had never said he gave information about Judith Coplon to Clark, nor did he state that he had demanded a probe of the matter, Ferguson wrote the attorney general.

Next day the attorney general happened to be up on Capitol Hill calling on the chairman of the Senate judiciary committee, Pat McCarran of Nevada.

"Here's a letter that might interest you," remarked Senator McCarran, handing him a typewritten letter on the stationery of Senator Ferguson

In the letter Ferguson said exactly what the newspapers quoted him as saying the night before, and which he had denied to Clark. Two years ago, wrote the Michigan senator, he had given the information about Judith Coplon to Clark, and now he demanded an investigation. Furthermore, he put all this in black and white.

The attorney general read the letter with amusement.

"Well, here's a letter he wrote me," he remarked, pulling out the handwritten note in which Ferguson said he had been misquoted.

McCarran read the note, then observed:

"I thought there was something funny about Ferguson's phoning me last night. He wanted to know if I had received this letter. Then he said: 'Well, don't give it out. It's confidential'."

Lobby Loves China.

IN A secret report to the senate foreign relations committee last week, Secretary of State Acheson bluntly announced that the communists are complete masters of China and it would be folly to send more U. S. arms to the defeated nationalists.

Acheson revealed that nine-tenths of the equipment already furnished by the United States has been surrendered to the communists in the past eight months.

Today the communists have the military power to march wherever they please in China—including South China where the nationalists are still holding out, Acheson reported.

Meanwhile, the nationalists are negotiating frantically for a coalition government. Whether the United States will do business with the new government, Acheson said will depend on the communists' attitude.

The secretary of state was called before the foreign relations committee to answer a petition, signed by 50 senators, demanding aid for the nationalists. Significantly, the petition was sponsored by Sen. Pat McCarran of Nevada, the silver lobbyist, whose plan is to bolster the nationalist economy—with silver.

Maltreating Prisoners.

SENATOR Tydings of Maryland has been trying to side-step a Senate investigation of army brutality in Germany.

What some senators want to investigate is evidence that the Army used strong-arm men to torture confessions out of the Malmedy war criminals. Some prisoners, it is contended, had their teeth knocked out. Others were taken before mock courts which condemned them to die. Then, after they were convinced there was no hope, they were promised clemency if they would confess. Ration books were also reported taken away from families, until hungry women and children begged the prisoners to confess.

To further demoralize the prisoners, their wives were allegedly taken out and given too much liquor.

Subsequently, the Army was able to convict 73 out of 74 defendants in the Malmedy trials. The seventy-fourth committed suicide.

That is why Secretary of the Army Royall has decided to review the convictions.

When this information was turned over to the Senate armed services committee, however, Chairman Tydings refused to investigate. Later the Senate expenditures committee voted to probe into the scandal which caused Tydings to change his mind, and he insisted that his committee should have jurisdiction. However, the expenditures committee decided to go ahead anyway, letting Tydings participate, but not run the show.

Drought Hits Plan.

THE Marshall Plan is in serious danger in the Mediterranean countries because of a devastating drought. The Rome weather station has reported the lowest rainfall in its 176-year history.

Industries depending upon hydroelectric power are almost at a standstill, though cool weather luckily has saved the crops from serious damage so far. The prospect is worse in Portugal, where pastures are drying up and threatening the vital cattle industry.

Worse hit of all is Spain—not a Marshall Plan country. Drought-stricken Spaniards are so desperate for water that they are trading wine for water in some places. Already the signs indicate that Spain's olive-oil output, her main source of export, won't even take care of domestic needs this year.

Tom Campbell's Vision

By INEZ ROBB

ALBUQUERQUE, N. Mex. — Tom Campbell, the undisputed wheat king of the world, has an affinity for deserts.

The first time I ever saw Tom, in an Army mess in Algiers in February, 1943, he was telling anyone who would listen that North Africa had been the bread basket of the world in the days of the Caesars and that this semi-desert could again feed Europe, if properly farmed.

His enthusiasm was so contagious and engaging that within ten minutes even the most skeptical army men, who cursed the bleak, arid North African terrian, were caught up in Tom's plan to make the desert bloom.

Afterward, when this tall, extraodinarily handsome man with the snow white hair and the dynamism of a man half his years, had left his plan to reclaim Caesar's breadbasket seemed very romantic — and equally remote. True, much of the world, including Europe, was bitterly hungry.

But, there was a war to be won and the desert seemed a vast and implacable adversary to both man and wheat.

But it is the measure of Tom Campbell, 66, that his agricultural plan for North Africa is already under way and he has now turned his energy and enthusiasm to the awesome and arid expanses of New Mexico.

The man who has revolutionized agricultural techniques the world round in the past three decades is now the largest land owner in this state. He has acquired 429,000 acres in the vicinity of Albuquerque on which to try out the theories and practices which have made his 65,000 acre tracts near Hardin, Mont., the biggest privately operated wheat farm in the world.

"All Nature wants is just a chance," Tom shouted happily above the roar of his jeep as we rocketed down a cattle trail through the biggest pasture — 100,000 acres of it!—on the continent.

* * *

On Elaborate Scale.

HE PLANS to give Nature that chance on an acreage that extends from mountain range to mountain range, and varies from dry mesas to irrigated land through high plateaus to heavily wooded timber lands where he plans extensive logging operations.

Tom will adopt to this southwest kingdom the intensive mechanization which has made him world-renowned as the inventor and perfector of mass production in agriculture.

When young Tom Campbell went to Washington in 1917 to join the U. S. Army it took Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior; Herbert Hoover, food administrator, and Andre Tardieu, French high commissioner, to persuade him it was his duty to stay home and grow wheat. The world was then as hungry as it is today.

That was the beginning of the Montana adventure with its unprecedented mechanization. Its success was so spectacular that the Russian government in 1928 asked Tom to come to the U. S. S. R. as consulting engineer for the Soviets' first agricultural five year plan. More than 7,500,000 acres of state farms were organized to Tom's specifications.

He can laugh about it now, but it was not particularly funny to Tom in 1933 when his advisory job with the Russians cost him the secretaryship of agriculture in the Hoover cabinet, after he had organized the farmers for Hoover in the 1932 campaign.

England, early in 1941, sent for Tom to boost its own wheat output. Then in 1945, at the request of Field Marshal Smuts and the late president Roosevelt Tom went to South Africa to advise on agricultural problems there.

And finally, this man's dream of making the arid North African terrain again bloom as in Caesar's time began to come true. At the request of the French government, he flew to North Africa late in 1948 to advise Tunisian, Algerian and Moroccan farmers on problems of soil and moisture conservation and increased yield on present acreage.

Farmer's Diary

About Sewing At Home

By CALVIN A. BYERS

"I THINK it pays to sew at home," a thrifty young farm wife told me. "Besides, I like to! With all the patterns and trimmings and things that a person can get nowadays, any woman who tries can soon learn to make things for herself.

"And if there are children, it's real economical to know how to run up a new frock or put on a new zipper or even just do artistic patching There ought to always be at least one woman in a home that understands sewing. My grandma taught me

"She's one of these comfortably busy souls who can alter a skirt or lengthen a pair of trousers or change a hem while you wait. She can make over grown-up's clothes for the children and still keep them stylish. She has a flair for it

"She made the boys' colored wool shirts this year. Quite a saving there. And she knitted their sweaters. Now she's working on several gingham dresses for her high school granddaughter. The long spring sewing season comes just before Easter, she says, and if she gets caught up then, the whole summer seems to go smoother.

"She likes it that ruffles and bows are coming back into style. Ruffled trims on garments from the skin out seem just right to her. I'm not so sure about it, myself. But I copied a tailored suit-coat that I saw in a shop, and got by with it last fall. So I'm setting my heart on a new Easter outfit that'll make Harry proud of me—and still suit the Scotch in both of us. Solid colors are big business this year—

"Look!" Out of a closet she whisked a length of fawn-colored stuff and across it laid a soft apricot colored blouse "Doesn't it look just good enough to eat?" she said.

It did. I know all the boys will whistle.

CAN'T FIGURE John Lewis organizing cab drivers It's not like him to tie up with anyone who will put him in a back seat.

* * *

Must be something he thought up on vacation Last time he took two weeks off he organized milk maids.

* * *

But it was logical Milk comes from cows, cows eat hay, hay grows in the earth, the earth contains minerals, minerals are mined welcome to the UMW!

And for New York it would be a break to have United Mine Worker taxi drivers. We've tried for years to find a quick route across town. Now we can get a driver who will DIG one.

But will it be an accident or a jurisdictional dispute when a UMW cab and an AFL truck collide with a Transport Workers' Union bus?

In the last 40 years, we Americans have doubled our standard of living.

We did this by building . . . building the railroads, the factories, the farms . . . drilling the oil wells, sinking the mines that produce all the good things we now enjoy.

Every single one of these goods-producing factories, farms, oil wells was built or laid out or drilled because someone saw a chance to make a profit.

And every one of these factories, farms and other things that grew up to serve more and more people with better and better goods did so only because someone plowed back into the business a lot of the profits of that business.

This growth process . . . called "capital formation" by economists . . . is the sole source of all the good things we enjoy today! True, for a short time, we can continue to build factories or drill oil wells by borrowing money or by selling new stock. But no one will lend money to or buy stock in any enterprise that does not sooner or later show a profit . . . and a good profit!

(Would you? Of course not!)

But there is a notion rather prevalent right now that this growth process can be done without profits . . . that it is all right to tax "undistributed" profits (let's call it "growth money") so much that every business will pass it out to stockholders or give it to the employees.

We hope that every American will examine that notion carefully. Because we want America to keep on growing. We want to double the standard of living again . . . and again. And the only way to do it is to keep profits working for all of us!

Mansfield Sorosis Hears Talk On 'Psychiatry—the New Healer'

"PSYCHIATRY — THE NEW HEALER" was the subject of Miss Ruth Culbertson's talk before the Mansfield Sorosis yesterday at the Women's Club. Mrs. C. A. McClure was the hostess.

A short business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. LeRoy McGinty. Miss Culbertson introduced her very interesting and comprehensive talk with the fact that psychiatry did not come to public attention until the last 20 years. Up until that time it had been used only in hospitals for the treatment of serious mental cases.

"However," Miss Culbertson continued, "during the war it was used so effectively in the treatment of men in the services that a great deal was learned about the subject and it was seen that psychiatry could be applied to the general public."

She discussed the various types of treatment used today, occupational, educational and recreational therapy. The speaker related how different patients respond to the various treatments. She said that today psychiatry was not only being used in mental hospitals but in educational programs and in industry.

In reference to training for medical students, Miss Culbertson explained that today medical students are not only trained to deal with the physical aspects of their patients but also with the personality of their patients. They are taught to diagnose psychiatric illness.

In conclusion she said. "Psychiatric illness is the result of a conflict between personality and environment."

The next meeting will be held April 5 at the Women's Club with Mrs. W. E. Wygant, hostess.

Miller Home Scene of Meet

The Daughters of Ruth class of St. Luke's Lutheran church, met Monday evening at the home of Miss Clara Miller, 139 Carpenter road, with Miss Martha McFarland assisting the hostess.

The vice-president, Mrs. Flossie Huber, conducted the meeting in the absence of the president. Devotions were led by Mrs. Carl Hartman. The business meeting was followed by the program which was arranged by Mrs. Huber. Her topic was, "If This Book Had Never Been".

Refreshments were served from a table centered with a bouquet of jonquils. The next meeting will be held April 18 at the home of Mrs. Wade Uhlich, Glenwood boulevard. Mrs. Carrie Ford will be the associate hostess.

Freeze left-over coffee or tea into cubes for iced coffee or tea. Fruit juices may be fozen to be added to fruit drinks.

Senior High Pupils Give Program

Mrs. S. D. Hoover was hostess to Tourist Club members and four guests, Mrs. Clyde Smaltz, Mrs. W. C. Peterson, Mrs. Fannie Carrier and Mrs. M. H. Harrah, Tuesday afternoon at the Women's club.

The spring luncheon was served at small tables, centered with arrangements of jonquils.

The entire program was turned over to Miss Martha Eckert, who presented her speech pupils from Senior high school. The dramatics students gave a program of cuttings from several popular hit plays.

On April 5 the members will meet with Mrs. W. L. Parkinson as hostess at the Women's club for a regular program.

Study Club Has Dinner

The Santa Maria Study Club met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. C. J. Kalbfleisch, 158 Sturges avenue for a dinner at 6:30 p. m. This was followed by a business meeting and the president, Mrs. Joseph Rizzo, opened the session with prayer.

It was announced that the club had sent $25. and two boxes of clothing to a Catholic Mission in Fairfield, Ala.

Mrs. Harold Oakes presented a paper on "When a Nun Travels". The article was written by a nun, describing experiences she encountered in traveling in her line of duty.

The next meeting is scheduled for May 18 at the home of Mrs. Oakes, 30 Greenwood avenue, with Miss Grace Crotty as associate hostess.

HONOR COUPLE

Mrs. G. N. Smith, 112 West Fifth street, was hostess to fourteen guests at her home March 17 when she honored Miss Glenna Ryan and Joseph R. Smith, whose nuptials took place Sunday with a rehearsal dinner and party. Mr. G. N. Smith, brother of the bridegroom served as best man at the wedding.

Discussion Held On Club Project

Miss Mary K. Swint was hostess Monday evening to members of the Little Flower Study club at her home, 104 Sherman avenue.

Miss Mary Hecht, president, conducted the business session. A round table discussion on club projects for the year was held.

Mrs. Jerry Hanley presented a paper on "Catholic Education." Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting with Mrs. Rose Johnston presiding at the tea table. The home was decorated with arrangements of African violets and ivy.

The next session will be at the home of Mrs. Johnston, Scholl road, April 4.

Legion Bridge Club Has Birthday Party

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary bridge club met Tuesday for a birthday luncheon at the Evergreens. Hostesses included Mrs. Charles Benedict, Mrs. Chris Geisel, Mrs. Perry Smart and Mrs. Max Lewis.

After the luncheon the group adjourned to the Legion club rooms where bridge was played. Pries were awarded to Mrs. James Brownscombe and Mrs. Hollis Moorhead. The group will meet again on April 5 at the Legion home with Mrs. Ralph Shively, hostess.

chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Clifford Heaton Mrs Russell Porch, Miss Thelma Hursh, Miss Ethel Heuss and Mrs. Richard Wappner.

Charter members in attendance were Mrs James Bricker, Miss Dorothy Crawford, Mrs Arthur Knight and Miss Wilma Zigler Mrs Frank Hock and Mrs Harry Houck of Cleveland, both life members, were welcomed as guests

Plans were made for a box social to be held April 1 at John Todd Park pavilion for sorority members, their husbands and guests. Mrs. Paul Schmunk and Mrs. Robert Morrow will be in charge of arrangements, assisted by the five new members.

Yesterday noon the three national officers were feted at a luncheon at the Mansfield Leland hotel Today Mrs Wilbur Upson Glen Beck Lane, will be hostess for a luncheon-bridge at her home, for the guests of honor and sorority members. Mrs Clifford Heaton will hold open house tonight at her home on Marlow road

The sorority will hold a business meeting on April 12 at the YMCA clubrooms

Stewed tomatoes may be varied by adding sauteed eggplant to them, sprinkle crisp buttered croutons over the top

Watch the temperature when using cheese in a dish. High temperatures of too long cooking tends to make cheese stringy and rubbery

PEARL: COME HOME

It was all my fault, Pearl. I admit I was surly and grumpy. No wonder that even the kids were scared of me. But everything's better now. I've found out that constipation caused by lack of bulk in my diet can be licked! Believe me, I advise others who suffer the same way to do what I did: just eat a bowlful of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every day and drink plenty of water. They say it's America's most famous laxative cereal—believe me, it sure gets my vote. Or make it up into muffins—they taste grand too . . . Come home, dear, and find a bran new man waiting for you. That's me—your ever-lovin' husband, JOE. —Adv

Delta Kappa Gamma Donates Cash for Friendly House

DELTA CHAPTER of Delta Kappa Gamma, national honorary society for teachers, held a meeting Monday evening at the Women's club. Miss Reba Robinson, president of the chapter, conducted the business meeting.

It was voted to donate $25 to the Friendly House to be used for furniture which will be chosen by Mrs. Russell Gimbel, assistant director of Friendly House. An invitation was read from the Ashland chapter, inviting members to attend a meeting on April 12 at which time the national vice-president, Miss Margaret Boyd of Steubenville, will be the guest speaker.

Miss Margaret Wheeler, program chairman, announced that the next local meeting will be held April 30 at 2:30 p. m. at a place to be announced. At this time the guest speaker will be Dr. Virginia Sanderson, state president of the society. Guests will be the Ashland chapter and the Crawford county chapter.

The chairman of the nominating committee, Miss Leona Snyder, presented a slate of candidates for office for the new year. Election will be held at the May meeting.

After the business meeting, bridge was played at six tables. The hostesses for the social hour were Mrs. W. J. Bissman, Miss Leona Snyder and Miss Anne Maglott. High score winners were Miss Leona Miles and Miss Evalyn Wiseman. Each member received a favor at the bridge tables.

Two salads youngsters like: shredded carrots, raisins, and coconut mixed with a mild cooked dressing; green cabbage shredded and mixed with a creamy dressing and peanuts.

Use spring vegetables for a delicious sandwich filling: radishes, green onions, celery, lettuce, corrats, cucumber mixed well with mayonnaise and plenty of salt and hand-milled pepper. Good on whole-wheat or rye bread.

Horoscope

For Thursday, March 24.

INITIATIVE, forthright, attack, well-laid and executed plans and projects may be projected into new heights of enterprise and accomplishments under current sidereal operations, with promise of desired support and substantial endorsement from those in influential places. Rewards and emoluments are in sight for worthy propositions, especially in new or untried lines. Personal, professional or social factors should be tactfully utilized. But be prepared for a strange or breath-taking debacle in intimate or romantic ties.

Those whose birthday it is, have the assurance of an outstanding coup, during the year, in which initiative, ingenuity, fresh techniques of major significance, may be pushed by strenuous effort, determination, and well-organized and executed details. High places are to be counted upon for capital, rewards and friendly recognition. The social or professional assets are to be used, but be alert to some unusual, spectacular or dramatic adventure of an emotional or romantic nature. Elopements, separations or singular experiences materialize under such astral sign.

A child born on this day has splendid faculties, talents, energies and traits of character for outstanding success in life.

Cauliflower may be served in a salad, occasionally, for a change from the hot vegetable. Cook the cauliflower in a small amount of boiling salted water until only tender-crisp, drain of any liquid in saucepan and chill. Arrange on a bed of shredded salad greens with a ring of thinly sliced ripe tomatoes around the flowerets. Pour over a well-seasoned French dressing and serve.

In 1910 the average American ate 195 pounds of potatoes. In 1948 the potato's popularity slipped to about 118 pounds per person, according to the Department of Agriculture.

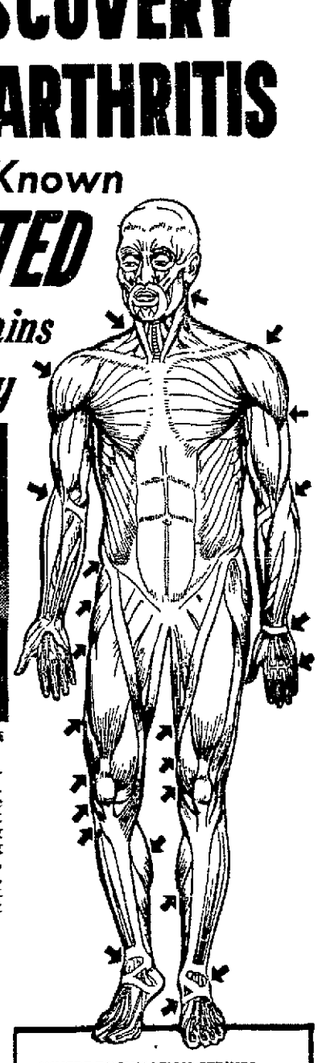
AT LAST THE STORY CAN BE TOLD! Science has turned its attention to relieving the agonizing pains of rheumatism and arthritis. The result of extensive research is the remarkable preparation IMDRIN. Longtime sufferers from rheumatism, arthritis, neuritis and gout may find IMDRIN gives glorious relief amazingly fast. Contains no dope or harmful drugs. Ask for IMDRIN at drug stores.

DEVELOPED AFTER 3 YEARS OF EXTENSIVE TESTS IN HOSPITAL CLINICS

IMDRIN has been a closely guarded experimental secret before release for public use. Yes, medical men, after three years of extensive hospital tests, have proved conclusively that IMDRIN works internally toward amazing reduction of pain, heat, redness, and swelling in the joints. Every victim of rheumatism, arthritis, neuritis, sciatica, gout, neuralgia, etc., should investigate this new development of modern medicine. Ask for IMDRIN at drug stores.



WHERE RHEUMATISM STRIKES . . . AND HOW TO DETECT IT!

Rheumatic and arthritic pain and inflammation strikes any of the indicated areas (See chart above.) But these diseases have many forms and symptoms.

All forms of arthritis and rheumatism are accompanied by pain, very often swelling and loss of function of the joints. Hospital test patients receiving IMDRIN were able to resume more happy active living once the pain subsided and their confidence grew. IMDRIN reduced joint swelling and eased pain rapidly. IMDRIN is your greatest hope. IMDRIN may give you the same blessed results. Get IMDRIN today!

RELIEVES PAIN AND SUFFERING AFTER 20 YEARS OF TORTURE!

"I call IMDRIN a miracle and you can understand why when I tell you that the pain which had tortured and crippled me was gone after I had taken IMDRIN. Now, for the first time in years, I can move about without pain and enjoy life once again. Sure, I'm the thousandth of unfortunates like me should be happy to learn about the blessed, fast-acting IMDRIN."
A. C.
Chicago, Illinois

"I had arthritis and rheumatism so bad I could hardly get around. In fact, I went to several doctors who told me that my case was hopeless and that they could do nothing for me. Well, I had about given up hope when I saw your ad in the paper and bought a bottle of IMDRIN. I really think it's a wonder. I feel better with every dose I take. It seems like a dream to be free of so much pain."
MRS. A. R. BURR
311 N. Bryan Street, Amarillo, Texas

"Even though my daughter is a registered nurse she could not find anything to help her agonizing arthritic pains. She tried everything but nothing did her any good. Then we bought IMDRIN and we have had miraculous results. I am going to tell all my friends about the wonderful relief from IMDRIN. It really is an amazing remedy."
MRS. C. C.
Kunkletown, Pennsylvania

Paris Fashion Houses Complain

PARIS — The big Paris fashion houses are complaining of piracy. Not the kind of pirate who's looking for gold on merchant ships with a skull and cross-bone banner but the kind that sits quietly at a fashion show with a sketch pad and takes down all the details of the latest designs and then sells them at fancy prices to lesser designers.

Many precautions are taken to keep undesirables away from the shows. Anyone requesting an invitation has to produce a passport which reveals his certified profession. If the person turns out to be a designer, or in any way connected with the dress trade, the fashion house demands a stake of about $200 as guarantee that at least one dress will be bought. The dress usually costs much more than this but the stake is forfeited if nothing is bought.

For absent-minded girls there is a new glove holder which can be attached to any handled pocketbook. It is suspended on a thin gold-plated chain which holds both gloves whenever they are taken off at the movies, in restaurants or on other occasions.

If you've been serving carrots the same old way, try cutting them in strips and cooking them in a small amount of boiling salted water. Then dress with a cheese sauce.

New baby pants are of fine rayon jersey lined with plastic. They are available in white, pink and blue, lace and bow trims for girls, tailored models in white and blue for boys.

CONFIDENCE

During 90 years Father John's Medicine has earned the confidence of the people who have learned to trust its effectiveness by the results which have followed its use. Your friends and neighbors have proved its value.

GOOD NEWS FOR SICK PEOPLE

STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS, RHEUMATIC PAINS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS

and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite, Underweight, Dizzy Spells

Drugless Health!

REGARDLESS of how long you have been a sufferer, and how many medicines you have tried before, you can now hope for relief if you try GEO-MINERAL, the wonderful mineral aid. Feel and enjoy the results one week after you start taking it. GEO-MINERAL comes from the earth — Nature's laboratory. Contains NO alcohol, NO preservatives, NO oil. NO harmful drugs, NO dope — is NOT habit forming. Contains ONLY Nature's minerals, the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments — highly recommended by the medical profession.

FOR THOUSANDS of years ever since Hipocrates was the father of medicine, minerals and other natural medicines were a reliable remedy for most of our common ailments. GEO-MINERAL will enrich your blood, help to make you strong, full of pep, life and energy. If you suffer from nutritional anemia, nervousness, lack of vitality and energy see what GEO-MINERAL will do for you.

Amazing Results

MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite, when your eyes lack that bright spark, and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid condition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ills. People, on the advice of their doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

Wonder Minerals

YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous water. We have all heard of the wondrous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

GEO-MINERAL contains minerals you get at the world's best springs. Watch your elimination from your bowels a day or two after using it. The waste, black as the color of your shoes, will start to break away, and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities — poisonous waste — coming out of your kidneys, relieving you. And then realize the priceless value of GEO-MINERAL.

Read What They Say!

"We wish to state that after selling Geo-Mineral for eight months, this product has broken all sales records in the medicine line in our drug store — reports Jack Wright, owner of Economy Drug Co., Anderson, S. C. "Users report almost miraculous results helping sufferers with rheumatism, arthritis, weak kidneys, and various stomach ailments. We believe that there exist very few items on the druggists' shelf with the merit of this natural mineral medicine. Of thousands of bottles sold on guarantee basis, there have been very few refunds."

100% Guaranteed!

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.

REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, GEO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need!

TRY it today! It may do wonders for you—and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

OPS Stock To Be Opened To Public Early In April

A million shares of Ohio Public Service company stock will be offered to the public April 5, it was announced yesterday.

This will be the first public participation in the company's common stock. The 1,000,000 shares of stock will have a $7.50 par value. A $10,000,000 bond issue also is being offered early in April.

OPS has paid dividends every year since 1922. It declared a 28-cent quarterly dividend per share March 7. This makes an annual dividend payment of $1.12.

The million shares are being made available from 361,840 shares of new stock, and 638,160 shares now owned by the Cities Service company.

Cities Service must divest itself of its OPS holdings under the federal Public Utilities Holdings act. After the April sale the Cities Service company will still own 2,000,000 shares of OPS stock. The firm will have to relinquish this stock within the next two or three years, on OPS official said.

The OPS is planning a $26,000,000 construction program within the next two years. A 132,000-volt line from R. E. Burger station in Lorain to the high-voltage transmission system in Ashland is included in the plan.

Would Replace Stolen Funds

AKRON — (INS) — Mrs. Marjorie Wertenberger, 34, sought today to avoid a prison sentence by attempting to make restitution of $5,000 she admittedly embezzled from an Akron post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Mrs. Wertenburger, long a resident of Akron but now living in Springfield, pleaded guilty to the embezzlement charge yesterday in Summit county Common Pleas Court after a jury had been selected.

She asked, however, that sentence be deferred 10 days, during which she indicated she planned to raise and return an amount equal to that stolen.

Quick Relief from Pile Irritation

40 years ago a Buffalo druggist created an ointment to relieve itching smarting piles. It brought such quick, cooling, soothing, astringent relief that its fame spread across the land making Peterson's Ointment a favorite in thousands of homes. Ask your druggist today for 40c box or 60c applicator tube. Peterson's Ointment delights or money back. —Adv.

Wire-Tapping, General Snooping Plague American Public Today

NEVER have our citizens been so hounded, stalked and beset by professional and amateur Hawkshaws and Young King Bradys, prying into their correspondence, their social life, their politics and laudable prejudices, indeed their very chambers as they are today, thanks, originally, I suspect, to the glorifying publicity cranked out on behalf of the FBI about the time of the kidnaping fad.

Adolescents of all ages thereby got an inkling or, at most, a smattering, of the art or trade of adding up fractions into conclusions by the matching of fingerprints, the preservation of the hoof tire-tracks by a process called moulage, by "shadowing" or, in the more blase jargon, "tailing," and by wire-tapping.

A young and flagrantly unsuitable GI who came to my attention some time ago as a source of incidental information, expressed a churning ambition to become an "investigator," which seems to be the new term for the trade of private detective.

He was eligible for G. I. tuition and was about to enroll at public expense for the full course in a school which advertised the enticements of a career of meddling and snooping. Blackmail seemed to me to be the ultimate payoff.

He had a careless memory for the facts which we were discussing, he had not paused to ask himself whether the people who engage "investigators" have any right to know what they want to know about the "subjects," and he seemed unequipped to discriminate between gossip and fact, truth and falsehood, a failing which is shockingly manifest in radio broadcasts offered as the journalism of the air.

There was a time before the First World war when the weekly magazines, especially those with rural circulation, regularly carried ads offering correspondence courses in this line of mischief under the standing head "Be a Detective!"

They solemnly promised each student who paid his tuition a diploma with a seal on it at his graduation as well as a badge the weighty title "Detective," a magnifying glass and a pair of handcuffs.

The magnifying glass gives me to believe that this fad sprang from the popularity of the Conan Doyle stories in which Sherlock Holmes was able to discern hidden meanings in cigaret ashes, dust and lint.

But it all may have been a hangover from the Pinkerton publicity during and after the old man's work as a roving G-2 for the Union army in the Civil war.

Many a plowman paid for his course and got his diploma, badge, glass and nippers, although I recall no such nuisance from them as we are put to by the present crop of transom peepers and wastebasket scavengers.

The recent episode in New York in which the telephones of Mr. O'Dwyer, the mayor, and other officers of the local government were tapped in the interest of persons professing the purest motives of political opposition, is more dramatic than the routine violations of privacy, but no worse.

The mayor, having been a district attorney himself, seems determined to get the law on these gum-shoes and that fact alone will surprise and perhaps hearten slightly those of us who didn't even know there was a law.

Of course, every good reporter is in a sense an "investigator," or, if you insist, a "detective." But the legitimate work of inspecting public records and interviewing public officers requires diligence, intelligence and usually good repute, all of which qualities are lacking in the most spectacular imposters.

Of course, a reporter will "investigate" to get his facts, but his mission never justifies wiretapping, corruption of trusted employes or the acceptance of unverified and irrelevant smear material from societies which exist to suppress legitimate political thought and action by moral terrorism.

Thieves Still Busy In Mansfield

3 More Cars Looted, Owners Tell Police

Thieves and vandals who have burglarized offices and homes and ransacked cars for the past two weeks continued to harass Mansfielders yesterday.

Damage to three cars by thieves who ransacked the autos was reported to police.

Miss Annabelle Pifer, 480 Wayne street, said she parked her car at 7:30 p. m. at the Naval Armory on Ashland road and returned at 9:35 p. m. to find the right door glass broken out, the lock on the glove compartment forced open and a flashlight gone. Miss Pifer said the car was locked.

Mrs. A. E. McClead, Mansfield R. D. 1, said the rear window was broken out in her car while the auto was parked on Glessner avenue near the hospital yesterday afternoon. Nothing was missing from the car Mrs. McClead said.

James H. Cox, Mansfield, R. D. 1, told police Tuesday morning that the chrome stripping around the glove compartment in his car was damaged and a hubcap was stolen while the car was parked at East Fifth and Newman street Monday night. Cox said the car was not locked but the glove compartment was.

War Hero's Burial Set

Rites Friday for William J. Hainer

Funeral services for T/4 William J. Hainer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hainer, Mansfield, R. D. 6, will be held at 1:30 p. m. Friday at the Wappner funeral home with Rev. Gorman Foley officiating.

Veterans of Foreign Wars will conduct full military rites and also act as pallbearers. Burial will be in the Lexington cemetery. Technician Hainer was born March 23, 1919, at Mansfield and had spent his entire life in this vicinity.

Surviving besides his parents are a son, Bruce Allen, and a daughter, Judy Kay, both of Shelby; two brothers, Thomas and Carl, at home; a sister, Mrs. Marie Company, of near Shiloh.

Technician Hainer was killed in action on Aug. 28, 1944, in France, and was buried in a cemetery near Rheims. Before entering service, Feb. 11, 1942, he was employed by the Hughes-Keenan company. He went overseas with the Seventh Armored division Jan. 5, 1944.

The body will arrive in Mansfield this afternoon and be taken to the funeral home, where friends may call.

Jaycees Honor Dr. Black

Dr. R. R. Black, a Mansfield physician for more than a half century, is the city's new "Citizen of the Month."

Dr. Black, who is still active, was honored last night by the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the monthly "The Best Is Yet to Come" show in Johnny Appleseed auditorium.

Robert Murphy, Jaycee president, described Dr. Black as "A family doctor in the great American tradition." The physician was not at the show to receive the award.

Dr. Black is the sixth "Honor citizen" chosen by a committee named by the Jaycees.

About 1,500 persons saw the two stage shows last night. The early evening performance was a sell-out and about 500 saw the late show.

Handsome and genial Nick Stuart, who has appeared in several movies, led the band during the shows.

ARMY WOES

Ken Card, sad-faced comedian, kept the crowds laughing with his tale of troubles in the army. Card spoke from experience for he is an army veteran.

Another highlight act was Jacqueline Hurley, as expert an acrobat as Mansfield has seen in a long time. She sat on her own head and then walked on her hands while holding her feet on her shoulders.

Don Zalaya, a Nicaraguan, played Chopin and Kreisler on the piano in a style that nearly brought down the house. The rotund Zelaya, son of a former president of Nicaragua, explained how listeners' choices in music often are a key to their personalities. It was all in a humorous vein.

The next "Best Is Yet to Come" show will be April 26 in Senior high auditorium. Buddy Moreno's band will be featured.

1949'S BEST DRESSED—In their different fields of "feminine endeavor" the New York Fashion academy picked these as "best dressed women of 1949," who dress "in keeping with their own requirements." Adds the academy in its 20th annual selection list: Mrs. Rockefeller won because "she has dressed with taste for charity and social activities," Miss Morison for "simplicity," Miss Bacall for "knowing the importance of smart apparel," Miss Paulee because she "edits her own wardrobe for opera roles."

IT WAS NO FUN—

Roller skating is not as easy as it looks and young Tommy David Hitchcock has a broken arm to prove it. Tommy, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Hitchcock, 117 South Adams street, was enjoying the first day of spring Monday, roller skating with his friends. Everything was going smoothly until suddenly down he went, fracturing his arm.

SPECIAL FAN—

Jaycee President Robert Murphy had a very special and appreciative audience last night when he came on stage at the Johnny Appleseed auditorium to announce the "honor citizen" award. From afar back in the auditorium a small but clear voice piped up: "Hi Daddy." It was Murphy's four-year-old son.

Stay Out Of Spring Campaign

Candidates to Be 'On Own'

Municipal candidates will be on their own in the approaching primary campaign, party leaders said today. The county organizations plan to maintain a "hands-off" policy, spokesmen said.

Ralph Hardy, chairman of the GOP executive committee, said there would be no political activity as far as his group is concerned during the primary.

"We'll let the campaign take it's course. Let the best man win," he explained. "As individuals," he added, "committee members are free to support anybody they choose."

The Republican primary battle carries the greatest interest, with Mayor Roy W. Vaughn opposed by Thomas B. Wright, first ward councilman, for the mayoralty nomination.

Mayor Vaughn said today the primary was "a little far away yet" and he had not set up any planned program.

Wright said he had not set up a schedule, but hopes to speak before clubs and civic organizations.

Marshall C. Moore, chairman of the Democratic central committee, said today the Democrats' campaigning would be confined to individuals running for councilman posts.

"We're not promoting any candidate," Moore said. "We'll support whoever is nominated."

HEADQUARTERS CLOSED

Neither side plans to open campaign headquarters for the primary. The only indication so far that a primary is coming up is the appearance of matches with candidates' names and name cards.

The Democrats have five primary contests—for the three councilman-at-large posts and for the First, Second, Fourth and Sixth ward councilman posts.

The Republicans, besides the mayoralty contest, have races for the nomination for treasurer, three councilman-at-large posts and Sixth ward councilman.

The board of elections, meanwhile reported that registrations continue to be light. Board Clerk Thomas R. Zeigler said four or five have been registering daily.

Zeigler cautioned that the last day for registering or transferring is Monday, April 4.

Recruiting Office Moves

The Army and Air Force recruiting station at 20 South Park street was moved today to new quarters at 31 North Main street, and will share offices with the Organized Reserve corps, now located there.

The new recruiting station will be managed by two permanent men, M. Sgt. Charles Baker and S. Sgt. Thomas Kane, who is to arrive from Youngstown this week.

The Army has occupied the South Park office since last July. Capt. R. L. Pine, commanding officer of the station, said that as of April 1 the office changes rank from a main recruiting station to recruiting station. Enlistees no longer will be processed here but will be sent to Canton, he said.

Some New York Newsstand Dealers Clear As Much As $1,000 Weekly

SOME OF OUR newsstand dealers make $1,000 a week. . . . Newsstands cannot be sold. The city owns them. . . . Several years ago stalls in choice locations retailed for as high as $50,000—until Mayor LaGuardia ended That Racket. . . . A ruling states that every newsstand must be open at least 4 hours every day.

The out-of-town newspaper stand at 43rd and B'way receives thousands of letters annually from all over the nation. Asking the vendor to look out for some missing kin—who may buy the hometown paper there.

Another ruling in Our Village demands that cab-drivers must get out and inspect the cab to see if the fare left anything—and if so—to report it to the nearest precinct house.

The oldest apartment house is on the north corner at 72nd and Central Park West . . Across the way is the Majestic Apartments (once a hotel) where O. O. McIntyre, the columnist, started his colyum. He was the press agent there—and sent his colyum to papers around the land free—just to get the hotel name in print.

One swank apartment house at 87th near Madison has more maintenance men than tenants.

If you want to wear your shoes out, you can find quarters in Our Town for as low as $7 per month . . . But if you want a suite at the Waldorf-Astoria (in the Towers there) it'll cost yez only $28,000

Most New Yorkers dial the wrong number (about 4 million wrong ones yearly) before 10 ayem. When they are still sleepy, apparently . . . Some sections of the town still have the Gay 90's flavor . On West Street—near the Hudson River—there are horse-troughs on every block. We have about 17,000 nags, even with all those motor trucks . . . It is possible to walk from 34th to 42nd Street without traveling on the streets. Via connecting subway underpass . . . The Big Show for country bumpkins still is the famed Automat near 46th on Broadway.

★

Broadway doesn't start at 42nd and end at 59th, at all. It runs from the Battery—at the tip of Manhattan—all the way to Albany, N.Y. . . Actors tell of a dilapidated theatre in the West 60s known as The Haunted House. No hit ever played there Because of the jinx it is now used as a warehouse for props and flops You have to buy at least ten lbs. of fish at the Fulton Fish Market . . They make most of the signs you see in the Broadway district at a place on 59th Street, near the docks that mother the ships from Sweden.

The cynics call New York the City of Sin, but we have churches that attract bigger crowds than any of the fabulous night spots.

A silly ruling in Our Burg says that liquor package shops must be so many feet from each other. But the drunk-stores, where the saloonatics gather, may be next to each other . . . The greatest variety of churches seen anywhere is just south of 14th Street. This sector abounds with churches, synagogues, mosques, temples, tabernacles and so on.

We have places that make good profit writing comedy for any occasion. Even for undertakers . . . One of the sturdiest places is that huge warehouse at 52nd and 7th. Its outer walls are 3 feet thick. Has more guards than any bank in town. So well policed—they carry neither fire nor burglary insurance on the contents. Feel they don't need it.

Cuts Price, Eyes Output

Following the lead of other electrical companies, which have reduced prices on certain electrical appliances, the Westinghouse Electric Appliance division here announced price cuts of $25 and $15 on two models of 1949 electric ranges today.

R. M. Beatty, manager of the electric range department, said price cuts were not contemplated on three other range models manufactured by the company.

Meanwhile, company officials were in conference today on the production outlook for April. They said a statement would be made Friday which would include information on the employment picture.

The company was asked for the statement yesterday in view of widely circulated rumors about lay-offs that were reportedly contemplated or already under way.

Pupils Give Musical

"Spring Revue", a school musical, will be presented by students of the Springfield township school at Ontario, Friday at 8 p. m. in the auditorium.

The musical organizations of the school, under the supervision of Herbert Krichbaum, will join in presenting a day in spring during which "Ma" t and "Pa" reminisce offstage, with the musical nummentioned in the casual plot.

Selections by the high school orchestra will open the program. Organizations taking part will include: girls' chorus, boys' chorus, high school mixed chorus, and the seventh and eighth grade special ensemble.

There will be a violin duet by Evelyn Beymer and Irvin Brissell; a dance group will include Jacqueline Parsons, Carol Delenberg, Janis Dent, Pauline Mowry, Robert Letts, Carl Duffner, Virgil Rader and Bernard Palmer; a seventh grade girls' ensemble, Ruth Cotter, Naomi Downs, Sue Malaby, Audrey Buchanan and Barbara Funston.

Windows Smashed

William Reese, 320 Superior street, reported to the sheriff's office yesterday that seven panes of window glass were shot out of a home he's building on Ridgewood road. Reese said he believed the panes were knocked out by B-B shot.

SPEAKS TONIGHT

Kenneth A. Connelly, deputy regional scout executive from Cincinnati will address the parent-scout banquet at the First Methodist church in Shelby tonight at 6:30. Connelly is to visit this area for three days and talk with various scout committees.

Technicality Frees Trash Dumper

The second offender in the health department's campaign to eliminate dumping of trash and garbage along Richland county roads appeared in municipal court today but he was freed because he was cited into court under the wrong law.

Orval R. Hall, 54, of 272 West Fifth street, admitted in court that he had dumped ashes and tin cans along Alta road, one mile south of Alta. But the affidavit signed by C. A. Griebling, on whose property the trash was dumped, charged that Hall had dumped household and kitchen wastes.

Municipal Judge H. H. Schettler dismissed the case because there was no evidence the man had dumped kitchen wastes. He was being tried under a health department law that didn't cover dumping of other trash.

Court officials said Hall may be arraigned later and charged with dumping the ashes and tin cans.

C. A. Griebling, Alta road farmer, secured Hall's license number last Saturday. Griebling said "there are several railroad cars of tin cans, bottles and ashes dumped in a ditch on my property and the trash is overflowing into the fields."

LAUNCHES DRIVE

Several weeks ago Health Commissioner Dr. Harry Wain asked property owners to assist in the apprehension of persons who are dumping trash along the roads. They were asked to secure the violator's license number or any means of identification and report it to the health department.

George Brown, Youngstown, was bound to the grand jury on a charge of issuing a check with no account in the bank. Bond was set at $1,500.

C. W. Zuhars, manager of the National Clothing store, Mansfield, said Brown purchased more than $90 in merchandise and paid for it with a check drawn on a Youngstown bank. The check was returned with a notation of "no account."

Transport Young People to Wooster

Death Claims Florist's Mother

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Nina E. Kafer, mother of Charles L. Kafer, Mansfield florist, at the St. Joseph's hospital, Lorain, Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Kafer, 69, lived at 231 Delaware avenue, Lorain. Besides her son, Charles, she is survived by another son, George E. of Cleveland, and one daughter, Mrs. Susan Jane Dalton of Lorain; four grandchildren; two sisters and a brother. Her husband, Charles, died in January, 1947.

Services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Presbyterian church at Lorain with burial in the Ridge Hill Memorial Park.

Rites Arranged Friday for Pvt. Robert L. VanDerau

Funeral services for Pvt. Robert L. VanDerau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. VanDerau, who was killed in Belgium Sept. 8, 1944, will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Geiger funeral home with Rev. Matthew G. Madden officiating. Burial will be in the Mansfield Memorial Park.

Members of the Barberton and Mansfield Elks lodges will hold memorial services at the funeral home Thursday at 8 p. m. Military rites will be in charge of the Earl D. McVey post, American Legion.

Pvt. VanDerau was born in Dayton, Feb. 21, 1918, coming to Mansfield with his family when he was five years old. He attended Mansfield public schools and was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan university where he majored in chemistry. Following graduation he was employed by the Ferro Enamel company, Barberton, and at the time of his enlistment, he was with the Ordnance department in Cleveland.

Pvt. VanDerau was awarded two Purple Hearts and three marksmanship medals. The Medal of Valor was awarded to him posthumously during memorial services held by the Barberton Elks lodge, on Dec. 2, 1945. Pvt. VanDerau was the only member of the Barberton Elks lodge and the only employe of the Ferro Enamel company to die while serving with the armed forces.

He was a member of the First Congregational church here.

Besides his parents, he is survived by one brother, Donald, at home; four sisters, Mrs. Dean Fighter, Mrs. Joseph T. Geiger, Mrs. Trent Barney and Mrs. Dan Wittmer, all of Mansfield.

Friends may call at the Geiger funeral home after noon Thursday.

Wire-Tapping, General Snooping Plague American Public Today

NEVER have our citizens been so hounded, stalked and beset by professional and amateur Hawkshaws and Young King Bradys, prying into their correspondence, their social life, their politics and laudable prejudices, indeed their very chambers as they are today, thanks, originally, I suspect, to the glorifying publicity cranked out on behalf of the FBI about the time of the kidnaping fad.

Adolescents of all ages thereby got an inkling or, at most, a smattering, of the art or trade of adding up fractions into conclusions by the matching of fingerprints, the preservation of the hoof tire-tracks by a process called moulage, by "shadowing" or, in the more blase jargon, "tailing," and by wire-tapping.

A young and flagrantly unsuitable GI who came to my attention some time ago as a source of incidental information, expressed a churning ambition to become an "investigator," which seems to be the new term for the trade of private detective.

He was eligible for G. I. tuition and was about to enroll at public expense for the full course in a school which advertised the enticements of a career of meddling and snooping. Blackmail seemed to me to be the ultimate payoff.

He had a careless memory for the facts which we were discussing, he had not paused to ask himself whether the people who engage "investigators" have any right to know what they want to know about the "subjects," and he seemed unequipped to discriminate between gossip and fact, truth and falsehood, a failing which is shockingly manifest in radio broadcasts offered as the journalism of the air.

There was a time before the First World war when the weekly magazines, especially those with rural circulation, regularly carried ads offering correspondence courses in this line of mischief under the standing head "Be a Detective!"

They solemnly promised each student who paid his tuition a diploma with a seal on it at his graduation as well as a badge the weighty title "Detective," a magnifying glass and a pair of handcuffs.

The magnifying glass gives me to believe that this fad sprang from the popularity of the Conan Doyle stories in which Sherlock Holmes was able to discern hidden meanings in cigaret ashes, dust and lint.

But it all may have been a hangover from the Pinkerton publicity during and after the old man's work as a roving G-2 for the Union army in the Civil war.

Many a plowman paid for his course and got his diploma, badge, glass and nippers, although I recall no such nuisance from them as we are put to by the present crop of transom peepers and wastebasket scavengers.

The recent episode in New York in which the telephones of Mr. O'Dwyer, the mayor, and other officers of the local government were tapped in the interest of persons professing the purest motives of political opposition, is more dramatic than the routine violations of privacy, but no worse.

The mayor, having been a district attorney himself, seems determined to get the law on these gum-shoes and that fact alone will surprise and perhaps hearten slightly those of us who didn't even know there was a law.

Of course, every good reporter is in a sense an "investigator," or, if you insist, a "detective." But the legitimate work of inspecting public records and interviewing public officers requires diligence, intelligence and usually good repute, all of which qualities are lacking in the most spectacular imposters.

Of course, a reporter will "investigate" to get his facts, but his mission never justifies wiretapping, corruption of trusted employes or the acceptance of unverified and irrelevant smear material from societies which exist to suppress legitimate political thought and action by moral terrorism.

Thieves Still Busy In Mansfield

3 More Cars Looted, Owners Tell Police

Thieves and vandals who have burglarized offices and homes and ransacked cars for the past two weeks continued to harass Mansfielders yesterday.

Damage to three cars by thieves who ransacked the autos was reported to police.

Miss Annabelle Pifer, 480 Wayne street, said she parked her car at 7:30 p. m. at the Naval Armory on Ashland road and returned at 9:35 p. m. to find the right door glass broken out, the lock on the glove compartment forced open and a flashlight gone. Miss Pifer said the car was locked.

Mrs. A. E. McClead, Mansfield R. D. 1, said the rear window was broken out in her car while the auto was parked on Glessner avenue near the hospital yesterday afternoon. Nothing was missing from the car Mrs. McClead said.

James H. Cox, Mansfield, R. D. 1, told police Tuesday morning that the chrome stripping around the glove compartment in his car was damaged and a hubcap was stolen while the car was parked at East Fifth and Newman street Monday night. Cox said the car was not locked but the glove compartment was.

War Hero's Burial Set

Rites Friday for William J. Hainer

Funeral services for T/4 William J. Hainer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hainer, Mansfield, R. D. 6, will be held at 1:30 p. m. Friday at the Wappner funeral home with Rev. Gorman Foley officiating.

Veterans of Foreign Wars will conduct full military rites and also act as pallbearers. Burial will be in the Lexington cemetery Technician Hainer was born March 23, 1919, at Mansfield and had spent his entire life in this vicinity.

Surviving besides his parents are a son, Bruce Allen, and a daughter, Judy Kay, both of Shelby; two brothers, Thomas and Carl, at home; a sister, Mrs. Marie Company, of near Shiloh.

Technician Hainer was killed in action on Aug. 28, 1944, in France, and was buried in a cemetery near Rheims. Before entering service, Feb. 11, 1942, he was employed by the Hughes-Keenan company. He went overseas with the Seventh Armored division Jan. 5, 1944.

The body will arrive in Mansfield this afternoon and be taken to the funeral home, where friends may call.

Jaycees Honor Dr. Black

Dr. R. R. Black, a Mansfield physician for more than a half century, is the city's new "Citizen of the Month."

Dr. Black, who is still active, was honored last night by the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the monthly "The Best Is Yet to Come" show in Johnny Appleseed auditorium.

Robert Murphy, Jaycee president, described Dr. Black as "A family doctor in the great American tradition." The physician was not at the show to receive the award.

Dr. Black is the sixth "Honor citizen" chosen by a committee named by the Jaycees.

About 1,500 persons saw the two stage shows last night. The early evening performance was a sell-out and about 500 saw the late show.

Handsome and genial Nick Stuart, who has appeared in several movies, led the band during the shows.

ARMY WOES

Ken Card, sad-faced comedian, kept the crowds laughing with his tale of troubles in the army. Card spoke from experience for he is an army veteran.

Another highlight act was Jacqueline Hurley, as expert an acrobat as Mansfield has seen in a long time. She sat on her own head and then walked on her hands while holding her feet on her shoulders.

Don Zalaya, a Nicaraguan, played Chopin and Kreisler on the piano in a style that nearly brought down the house. The rotund Zelaya, son of a former president of Nicaragua, explained how listeners' choices in music often are a key to their personalities. It was all in a humorous vein.

The next "Best Is Yet to Come" show will be April 26 in Senior high auditorium. Buddy Moreno's band will be featured.

Pupils Give Musical

"Spring Revue", a school musical, will be presented by students of the Springfield township school at Ontario, Friday at 8 p. m. in the auditorium.

Jaycee President Robert Murphy had a very special and appreciative audience last night when he came on stage at the Johnny Appleseed auditorium to announce the "honor citizen" award. From afar back in the auditorium a small but clear voice piped up: "Hi Daddy." It was Murphy's four-year-old son.

Death Claims Florist's Mother

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Nina E. Kafer, mother of Charles L. Kafer, Mansfield florist, at the St. Joseph's hospital, Lorain, Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Kafer, 69, lived at 231 Delaware avenue, Lorain. Besides her son, Charles, she is survived by another son, George E. of Cleveland, and one daughter, Mrs. Susan Jane Dalton of Lorain; four grandchildren; two sisters and a brother. Her husband, Charles, died in January, 1947.

Services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Presbyterian church at Lorain with burial in the Ridge Hill Memorial Park.

Stay Out Of Spring Campaign

Candidates to Be 'On Own'

Municipal candidates will be on their own in the approaching primary campaign, party leaders said today. The county organizations plan to maintain a "hands-off" policy, spokesmen said.

Ralph Hardy, chairman of the GOP executive committee, said there would be no political activity as far as his group is concerned during the primary.

"We'll let the campaign take it's course. Let the best man win," he explained. "As individuals," he added, "committee members are free to support anybody they choose."

The Republican primary battle carries the greatest interest, with Mayor Roy W. Vaughn opposed by Thomas B. Wright, first ward councilman, for the mayoralty nomination.

Mayor Vaughn said today the primary was "a little far away yet" and he had not set up any planned program.

Wright said he had not set up a schedule, but hopes to speak before clubs and civic organizations.

Marshall C. Moore, chairman of the Democratic central committee, said today the Democrats' campaigning would be confined to individuals running for councilman posts.

"We're not promoting any candidate," Moore said. "We'll support whoever is nominated."

HEADQUARTERS CLOSED

Neither side plans to open campaign headquarters for the primary. The only indication so far that a primary is coming up is the appearance of matches with candidates' names and name cards.

The Democrats have five primary contests—for the three councilman-at-large posts and for the First, Second, Fourth and Sixth ward councilman posts.

The Republicans, besides the mayoralty contest, have races for the nomination for treasurer, three councilman-at-large posts and Sixth ward councilman.

The board of elections, meanwhile reported that registrations continue to be light. Board Clerk Thomas R. Zeigler said four or five have been registering daily.

Zeigler cautioned that the last day for registering or transferring is Monday, April 4.

Recruiting Office Moves

The Army and Air Force recruiting station at 20 South Park street was moved today to new quarters at 31 North Main street, and will share offices with the Organized Reserve corps, now located there.

The new recruiting station will be managed by two permanent men, M. Sgt. Charles Baker and S. Sgt. Thomas Kane, who is to arrive from Youngstown this week.

The Army has occupied the South Park office since last July. Capt. R. L. Pine, commanding officer of the station, said that as of April 1 the office changes rank from a main recruiting station to recruiting station. Enlistees no longer will be processed here but will be sent to Canton, he said.

Cited At Marion

Harold Caskey, 35, of Shelby, was turned over to Marion county authorities yesterday after he was arrested by Richland county sheriff's deputies. Deputies said Caskey was arrested on a Marion county warrant charging non-support.

Rites Arranged Friday for Pvt. Robert L. VanDerau

PVT. VANDERAU

Funeral services for Pvt. Robert L. VanDerau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. VanDerau, who was killed in Belgium Sept. 8, 1944, will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Geiger funeral home with Rev. Matthew G. Madden officiating. Burial will be in the Mansfield Memorial Park.

Members of the Barberton and Mansfield Elks lodges will hold memorial services at the funeral home Thursday at 8 p. m. Military rites will be in charge of the Earl D. McVey post, American Legion.

Pvt. VanDerau was born in Dayton, Feb. 21, 1918, coming to Mansfield with his family when he was five years old. He attended Mansfield public schools and was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan university where he majored in chemistry. Following graduation he was employed by the Ferro Enamel company, Barberton, and at the time of his enlistment, he was with the Ordnance department in Cleveland.

Pvt. VanDerau was awarded two Purple Hearts and three marksmanship medals. The Medal of Valor was awarded to him posthumously during memorial services held by the Barberton Elks lodge, on Dec. 2, 1945. Pvt. VanDerau was the only member of the Barberton Elks lodge and the only employe of the Ferro Enamel company to die while serving with the armed forces.

He was a member of the First Congregational church here.

Besides his parents, he is survived by one brother, Donald, at home; four sisters, Mrs. Dean Fighter, Mrs. Joseph T. Geiger, Mrs. Trent Barney and Mrs. Dan Wittmer, all of Mansfield.

Friends may call at the Geiger funeral home after noon Thursday.

Some New York Newsstand Dealers Clear As Much As $1,000 Weekly

SOME OF OUR newsstand dealers make $1,000 a week. . . . Newsstands cannot be sold. The city owns them. . . . Several years ago stalls in choice locations retailed for as high as $50,000—until Mayor LaGuardia ended That Racket. . . . A ruling states that every newsstand must be open at least 4 hours every day.

The out-of-town newspaper stand at 43rd and B'way receives thousands of letters annually from all over the nation. Asking the vendor to look out for some missing kin—who may buy the hometown paper there.

Another ruling in Our Village demands that cab-drivers must get out and inspect the cab to see if the fare left anything—and if so—to report it to the nearest precinct house.

The oldest apartment house is on the north corner at 72nd and Central Park West . . . Across the way is the Majestic Apartments (once a hotel) where O. O. McIntyre, the columnist, started his colyum. He was the press agent there—and sent his colyum to papers around the land free—just to get the hotel name in print.

One swank apartment house at 87th near Madison has more maintenance men than tenants.

If you want to wear your shoes out, you can find quarters in Our Town for as low as $7 per month . . . But if you want a suite at the Waldorf-Astoria (in the Towers there) it'll cost yez only $28,000

Most New Yorkers dial the wrong number (about 4 million wrong ones yearly) before 10 ayem. When they are still sleepy, apparently . . Some sections of the town still have the Gay 90's flavor . . . On West Street—near the Hudson River—there are horse-troughs on every block. We have about 17,000 nags, even with all those motor trucks . . It is possible to walk from 34th to 42nd Street without traveling on the streets. Via connecting subway underpass . . . The Big Show for country bumpkins still is the famed Automat near 46th on Broadway.

★

Broadway doesn't start at 42nd and end at 59th, at all. It runs from the Battery—at the tip of Manhattan—all the way to Albany, N.Y. . . . Actors tell of a dilapidated theatre in the West 60s known as The Haunted House. No hit ever played there. Because of the jinx it is now used as a warehouse for props and flops . . . You have to buy at least ten lbs, of fish at the Fulton Fish Market . . . They make most of the signs you see in the Broadway district at a place on 59th Street near the docks that mother the ships from Sweden.

The cynics call New York the City of Sin, but we have churches that attract bigger crowds than any of the fabulous night spots.

A silly ruling in Our Burg says that liquor package shops must be so many feet from each other. But the drunk-stores, where the saloonatics gather, may be next to each other . . . The greatest variety of churches seen anywhere is just south of 14th Street. This sector abounds with churches, synagogues, mosques, temples, tabernacles and so on.

We have places that make good profit writing comedy for any occasion. Even for undertakers . . . One of the sturdiest places is that huge warehouse at 52nd and 7th. Its outer walls are 3 feet thick. Has more guards than any bank in town. So well policed—they carry neither fire nor burglary insurance on the contents. Feel they don't need it.

Bet Truman Will Veto Labor Bill

Republicans Feeling Cocky

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON — (AP) — There's some private betting going on at the capitol that President Truman will veto the "administration substitute" for the Taft-Hartley act when it finally comes from congress.

The bets are being offered by cocky Republicans who say that if the breaks continue to come their way the Truman Democrats won't recognize their own baby when a GOP-southern Democrat coalition gets through with it.

John L. Lewis helped opponents of the Taft-Hartley repealer when he called his miners out of the pits.

The 10-to-1 vote of the senate interior committee approving the long-delayed nomination of James Boyd as director of the bureau of mines is a sample of how congress reacts to Lewis' demands. Lewis opposes Boyd.

If the president gets a bill that has most of the provisions of the Taft-Hartley act under another name, his friends think he might veto it and demand that congress start all over again.

Or Mr. Truman might find opportunity to say that what he has called the "abuses" of the present law had been corrected enough that he could accept the new bill reluctantly.

Any veto certainly would be sustained by congress, for that would leave the Taft-Hartley act intact, a result its supporters would welcome.

★

When president Truman shakes up his cabinet, about the last people to hear about it are Senator J. Howard McGrath, the Democratic national chairman, and William Boyle, the committee's executive assistant.

McGrath and Boyle learned from the newspapers that James Forrestal was out and Louis Johnson in as secretary of defense.

McGrath continues to be top man in passing on patronage channeled through the national committee. Boyle takes care of the minor jobs. But Mr. Truman doesn't seem to think it's any of the committee's business when he picks cabinet members.

Community Quickly Offers Aid to Stricken Family

The Wayne Tackett family was in a new home today and equipped with clothing and furniture.

Friends, relatives, and a Mansfield emergency relief agency quickly offered aid after the father, mother and five children were left homeless in a fire Saturday night. Mrs. Tackett and two of the children were burned in the fire which swept their small home at 201 East Third street.

Monday night the Tacketts moved into a four-room house in Country Club addition No. 3 which belongs to Dewey Tackett. Friends and relatives provided clothing to replace that lost in the fire

The Volunteers of America provided the other necessities for the family These included two complete beds, bed clothing, dishes and silverware, a kitchen table, seven kitchen chairs, a rocking chair, cooking utensils, and four pairs of children's shoes.

Mrs. Tackett and the five-year-old twins, Danny and Donny, suffered second-degree burns as they fled from the burning building after being roused by Manuel Tackett, 16. Donny is still in General hospital suffering from burns on the head and arms.

The father and two other children, Reed, 9 and Frieda, 11, were uninjured.

3 Enlist In Army, U. S. Air Force

Juan E. Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elden E. Walker, 173 Western avenue, has enlisted in the U. S. Air Force for one year the Mansfield Air Force recruiting office reported.

Also joining the Air Force for one year was Lloyd W. Heckert, of Tiro, R. D. 1. Re-enlisting for three years in the Army was Sgt. First Class Donald A. Spicer, of Marion, R. D. 3.

Walker and Heckert are now on their way to the Lackland Air Base, San Antonio, Texas, for basic training and eventual assignment to duty.

Flays Federal School Aid

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Enactment of a $300,000,000 federal aid to education bill will result in federal control of our school systems, the Ohio Chamber of Commerce president declares.

President C. I. Weaver said the chamber's board of directors favored sufficient financing of public schools, but believed the funds should be raised through state and local taxes.

The initial proposal of $300,000,000 in federal subsidies, Weaver said, would be "greatly increased in subsequent years with stringent rules and regulations imposed."

Plucky Housewife Called Heroine

MARYVILLE TENN. — (UP) — Mrs. Fred Hall, 40, of Detroit, Mich., was praised today as the heroine of the fight for survival of four injured airplane crash victims who waited three freezing nights on a rugged Smoky mountain slope for rescuers to come.

The three men in the party told how the plucky housewife ignored here own injuries, including a broken jaw, to keep them comfortable and whip up their flagging spirits during the 62-hour vigil on bleak Hangover mountain.

Foes Blast Unification

Wildlife Experts Fight Proposal

COLUMBUS — (INS) — The administration-endorsed unified conservation bill was potshotted today by representatives of sportsmen's and forestry associations.

J. Frank Atwood, Columbus attorney and president of the League of Ohio Sportsmen, said the bill gave the proposed new director "veto power" over the activities of the wildlife division because the director had to sign all wildlife vouchers — "an arbitrary power no man should have."

Clay Stackhouse, of Wakeman, president of the federation of Soil Conservation District supervisors, told the House Conservation committee hearing opponents of the bill that he objected to the inclusion of parks in the new set-up.

He also said he feared the new department, composed of seven divisions including soil conservation, might do "great harm" to the existing soil conservation program, and that farmers would "resent" interference by the state.

E. R. Cook, of Brookside Farms, New Knoxville, charged the bill would "mean more regimentation of the farmer."

SAFETY OR SORROW

ELYRIA—(AP)—A new city jaywalking ordinance providing a fine of $1 for violations in the downtown area was ushered in with the slogan "S.O.S," meaning safety or sorrow, city fathers said.

Spoilage Threat to Stored Corn Called Worst on Record

Elevators Refusing Some Grain

Moisture Content As High As 33 Per Cent

Richland county farmers' corn is more susceptible to mold and eventual complete spoilage this spring than ever before, county farm authorities reported today.

Mansfield elevators have had to refuse much corn offered for sale, because they feel the high percentage of moisture in the ears made it unsuitable for storing.

Moisture content of the corn has been reported as high as 32 per cent with the average running more than 20 per cent Normal water content at this time of the year should not be over 14 per cent.

An explanation of the poor condition of the corn in storage was offered by Guy L. Taylor, Richland Triple - A chairman, and C. N. McGrew, Richland county extension agent

BLAME MILD WINTER

They explained the high moisture content of the corn harvested last fall was not the only factor contributing to the situation. The mild winter, with little freezing weather, did not control the moisture in the air by freezing as it usually does, they pointed out.

The 44,000 bushels of corn in Richland county under government loan is being checked by the Triple - A for moisture content. Other farmers, having no obligation to the AAA, but who have large amounts of corn in storage, have been warned to check their own corn for the percentage of water in it.

The only remedy suggested by Taylor and McGrew was to remove the corn immediately from the cribs and place it in small piles so the air can circulate through the grain and dry it before warm weather attacks the ears and mold reduces the grain to an unsalable deficit.

Late varieties of corn with large cobs are showing the most spoilage, while early corn and well-dried cobs are in better condition.

The northern end of Richland county, which had a wetter late summer and fall, has shown a tendency to be worse than the southern section where the latter part of the growing season was dryer.

GO EASY ON PRUNING—Orchardist Esley Cleckner holds pruning shears where peach limb normally would be trimmed at this season Because damage to peach buds has been heavy this spring, he advises pruning much closer to the ends of the branches to preserve more fruit buds. Pruning should be limited mostly to removing dead wood this spring, he said.

Pruning Can Damage Peach Trees, Orchardists Warned

Peach growers have been warned to reduce pruning this spring, because of the large number of peach buds destroyed by the late winter cold spell.

Pruning is usually done fairly far back on the branches to force new limb growth for next year's crop and keep the trees within easy picking height.

But with reports of as high as 66 per cent of the buds destroyed by the winter, normal pruning practices should be curtailed to preserve as many of the buds as possible for this year's crop

Esley Cleckner, Mansfield peach orchardist, reminded orchardists of another condition which exists that no one has control over

With this warm weather, peach buds, which were formed last fall, may bloom in the next two weeks. If this happens and there is another cold wave, the peach crop will be seriously hit, Cleckner said.

Hearing Set At Fremont

Richland county sportsmen who signed the petition seeking to have Sandusky Bay closed to commercial fishing were reminded today by O. K. Warren and E. D. Howell, Willard, that a special meeting on this will be held at Fremont Friday.

The meeting is to be held at the American Legion hall at 7:30 p. m

The sportsmen backing this petition and bill (House Bill 366) fear commercial fishing will completely ruin the bay as sporting water since nets and seines dragged over spawning beds ruins the spawn.

Both Warren and Howell expressed the desire to make the bay a recreational area.

Agent Offers Help In Controlling Grubs

Rubbing "Bossy's" back with rotenone makes for a contented cow, County Agent C. N. McGrew says.

Since this is the time to treat cattle for grubs, the extension agent recommends that a mixture of ground derris root and coap in water be scrubbed into the backs of cattle for controlling grubs.

His office has available a pamphlet describing this treatment in detail.

Drunken Pigs and Cows With Socks Sneak Across Border

BRUSSELS (U.P.) —Hundreds of drunken pigs and stocking-footed cattle have been smugled silently across the Dutch border into Belgium within the past two years.

Illegal traffic in noisy livestock is a difficult profession, when they must be slipped by night across the closely guarded frontiers of small European countries, such as Holland and Belgium. These post-war smugglers have exhibited a cunning which so far has outwitted the police.

Hooves of cattle are cleverly muffled with specially constructed socks, made of thick burlap. To prevent mooing, the mouths of the cattle are smeared outside with a cheap soap.

The soap has an attraction for the cattles' tastebuds and rather than moo, the animals are constantly licking.

While livestock in Holland generally is cheaper than in Belgium—a cow in Belgium sells for $500, whereas in Holland they can be had for $100 less — the smugglers' real profit comes from black market juggling of Belgian francs and Dutch florins. A florin in this country is officially worth 16 francs but can be bought for as little as 10 francs

Belgians buy their cattle and pigs in Holland with cheaply-acquired florins, get them across the border unseen by customs officials and resell them here for Belgian francs

Pigs are more costly to smuggle under the current technique of getting them drunk. The equipment for silencin cows, cheap soap and burlap bobby-socks are not nearly so expensive as the amount of schnapps needed to keep a pig in a stupor for several hours.

The pigs often are fed crude alcohol and then jammed, by threes, into knapsacks to be carried "piggy-back" across the border to be fattened.

CROOKS WAS NO CROOK

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. — (UP) — Walter Garwich was delighted that his wallet fell into the hands of Crooks. Garwich dropped the pocketbook on a well-traveled street and it lay there 12 hours with $58 inside. Finally a passerby saw it and returned it to Garwich The finder, a coworker, was Ralph K. Crooks.

Farmers' Produce Brings 31 Billions

American farmers marketed about 31 billion dollars worth of products last year, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This was three per cent above the previous year and probably established an all-time record. Inasmuch as production expenses also were greater, net income was down slightly from the previous year.

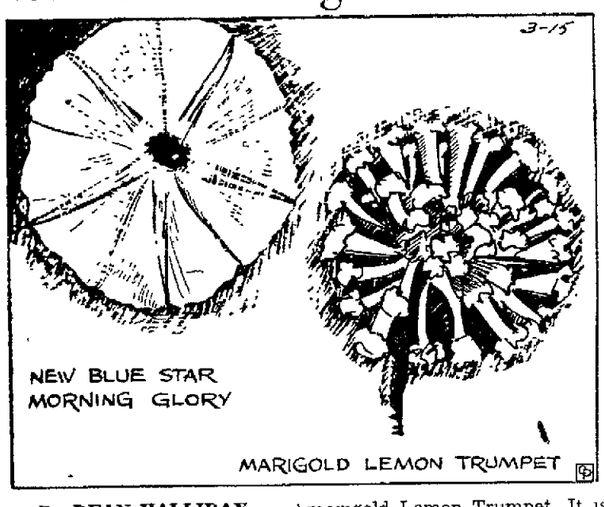
New Flowers Brighten Garden



By DEAN HALLIDAY
(By Central Press)

The chemists and the horticulturists have joined hands to develop new flowers for your 1949 garden.

The All-America selections include the Silver Medal petunia, Indian Summer Hollyhock and the Blue Star morning glory, a blossom of the latter being shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

This new morning glory is a sport of Clark's Early Heavenly Blue, with which many gardeners are familiar. Like its parent it is a rampant grower and literally covered with bloom.

This sport or mutation was found in France and quickly spotted by a Dutch seed grower for increase and entry in the All-America flower trials The following year, a California seed grower found a similar sport in his Heavenly Blue collection. Not aware of the French discovery, he also entered his newcomer in the All-America trials. Both entrants agreed with the judges that they had the same thing They also agreed on Blue Star for its name, and so it comes for your garden.

The chemists had a hand in the development of the new marigold Lemon Trumpet It is different than other African marigolds as result of treatment of the chromosomes with some of the recently discovered drugs The blossom, illustrated, produces four outer rows of trumpet-shaped petals and a tightly crested center. The color is lemon yellow and the blooms average 2½ to 3 inches across. It grows to a medium height and is excellent for planting solidly in beds or for cut flower use

Another new type of tuberous begonia also is a 1949 innovation. It is called Ruffled and its color range runs from pure white, through various pinks, yellow and orange to full scarlet.

AAA Sign-up Due April 1

The deadline for signing up for the 1949 Agricultural Conservation program of the AAA is April 1, Guy L .Taylor, county Triple - A chairman, reminded Richland county farmers today.

The program, which includes payments for liming, mowing pastures and tree planting, can be installed upon any farm meeting requirements of the AAA.

The AAA office now is in the new DAV building at West Fifth and North Mulberry streets and is open from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m., except Saturday and Sunday.

July Top Month In Wheat Sales

American farmers, on the average, sell nine per cent of their wheat in June, 23 per cent in July, 15 per cent in August, and 10 per cent in September—a total of 57 per cent in four months time Throughout the remaining eight months, approximately five per cent is sold each month, accounting for the remaining 43 per cent of the total crop This almost universal habit has persisted in spite of the changing conditions in the past century

Farm Agent On Leave

BUCYRUS — Effective Saturday, Crawford County Agriculture Agent Russell L. Miller will take a three-month leave of absence from his duties here to register as a special student at Ohio State university for a research study of egg marketing problems.

Miller will make a study of 100 poultry farms selected from egg auction truck routes operating out of the North Central Ohio Egg and Poultry association headquarters at nearby New Washington.

To obtain data for his report, Miller will tour 20 counties in his car, visiting the farms long enough to learn the individual poultrymen's methods from feeding to the final grading of eggs.

Miller pointed out that under the state extension rotation system, about 12 or 15 Ohio agents are required to take a refresher course each year In 1941 he took a refresher course at OSU on rural credit and sociology.

While Miller is on leave, Carl Miller, a young Mt. Zion farmer, will be temporary county 4-H leader from April to July 1. He will supervise organization of the clubs for their summer activities, including preliminary projects for participation in the junior fair here in September.
